Jim-
Thanks for the call.

On the call:

- Uniloc agreed to extend our time to respond to the amended complaint by seven days, to October 31. You stated that in the event we got close to October 31 and needed more time, Uniloc would consider an additional request.
- Uniloc stated that it would oppose a proposal to either move the scheduling conference out to the hearing date on our renewed motion to dismiss, or alternatively to expedite the briefing on that motion so we could keep the current Nov. 8 hearing date.
- Uniloc stated it would oppose our renewed motion to dismiss.

Best regards,

Paul

James-

Thanks for your response. We did review both the original and the amended complaint carefully. Uniloc included express allegations of infringement against Infor Workforce Management in the original complaint, which Uniloc removed from the amended complaint after we filed a motion dismiss directed at that product. For that reason we believe that our interpretation was correct.

In any event I will call you tomorrow to discuss the motion to extend time to respond to the complaint. Does 11 AM Eastern Time work for you?

Paul - For the record, we have not dropped our allegations of infringement against IWM or any other Infor product. Both complaints allege Infor has a range of infringing products. We used IWM in the first complaint and CRM Cloud in the amended complaint simply as illustrative examples. If you carefully read the amended complaint, you will note it specifies Infor has infringing products other than CRM Cloud. To clear up any doubt, those products Uniloc 2017 is accusing of infringement continue to include IWM. I expect we will provide more examples in our infringement contentions in a few weeks.

We will not agree to move the scheduling conference. I will send you this week a draft of the joint statement.

As always, we will extend to you whatever professional courtesies you need, including, from time to time, filing extensions to allow completion of briefs, etc. But, in return, we expect that you not play games with us. I am out today, but you can call me tomorrow (617) 456-8022 to discuss an extension for responding to the Amended Complaint.

Aaron and Michael-

I write to follow up on my voicemail of Friday afternoon. We have received Uniloc's first amended complaint. As you know, Uniloc accused Infor Workforce Management in its original complaint, and Infor moved to dismiss that complaint. In the amended complaint, Uniloc dropped its allegations against Infor Workforce Management, and accused a product known as Infor CRM Cloud.

Because Infor CRM Cloud was not previously accused of infringement, we are going to need more than the 14 days provided by Rule 15(a)(3) to put in a response. Please let us know if Uniloc would agree to 21-day extension of time to respond to the Amended Complaint, to November 14, 2019.

We also propose that the parties ask the Court to reschedule the November 8, 2019, scheduling conference, to give the parties time to confer about the new allegations and prepare a joint Rule 26(f) report in light of them. As you know, the Court previously set the scheduling conference for the same day as the hearing date for Infor's original motion to dismiss. We would propose that the Court do the same thing this time, and reset the scheduling conference to proceed on the same day as the hearing date for our renewed motion to dismiss. We would confer with you about a proposed hearing date in advance.

I would appreciate it if one of you could get back to me as soon as possible today regarding these proposals, as we will need to get a motion on file promptly if we do not have agreement.

Best regards,

Paul
