Subject: RE: Printing source code

Josh,

Most of the source code requested today are printouts for the ATP Appliance. The source code for this product was not previously available for inspection earlier in the case, and the tools for even accessing this code were only installed this December. Confirm that you will print out this source code today. If you refuse to do so, we will raise this with the Court.

Furthermore, if you confirm that you refuse to print all of the selected pages, then Finjan will specifically identify the files that it seeks to print today from those that were provided.

- Kris

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Printing source code

Counsel,

Your source code reviewer, Andy Jian, is seeking to print source code far in excess of the 750 pages permitted under the Protective Order in this matter. See Dkt. No. 149 at 9(d). Please provide in writing a statement showing good cause as to why Finjan should be permitted to exceed the limits on printing, including sufficient specificity as to each and every page/directory that Finjan seeks to print. We will consider your statement and respond in due course.

Regards,
Josh
