II. ARGUMENT

Under Fed. Rule Civ. P. 26(c)(1)(G), the Court may, in its discretion and for good cause, issue an order “requiring that a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be revealed or be revealed only in a specified way.” Similarly, in this Circuit, the Court may seal documents and information in the case of a dispositive motion if there are “compelling reasons” to do so, and where “good cause” exists in the case of non-dispositive motions. Ctr. For Auto Safety v. Chrysler Grp., LLC, 809 F.3d 1092, 1095-1100 (9th Cir. 2016). A motion is considered “non-dispositive” when the motion is no more than “tangentially related” to the underlying cause of action. Id. at 1099. The “good cause” standard requires a “particularized showing” that “specific prejudice or harm will result” if the information is disclosed. Phillips ex rel. Estates of Byrd v. Gen Motors Corp., 307 F.3d 1206, 1210-11 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal quotation marks omitted). “Broad allegations of harm, unsubstantiated by specific examples of articulated reasoning” will not suffice. Beckman Indus., Inc. v. Int’l Ins. Co., 966 F.2d 476 (9th Cir. 1992). A request to seal material “must be narrowly tailored to seek sealing only of sealable material.” L.R. 79-5(b).

Qualys seeks to seal the portions of the motion and the attached exhibits, which contain Qualys confidential information as detailed in the Declaration of Christopher D. Mays accompanying this motion to seal. Qualys has narrowly tailored its request with this Administrative Motion seeking to file under seal only the documents containing confidential information pursuant to the Stipulated Protective Order governing treatment of confidential information exchanged during discovery.

III. CONCLUSION

Qualys has shown good cause and compelling reasons for this request to file the above-referenced portions of the documents under seal. This request is narrowly tailored to seal only information that is regarded as confidential. For these reasons, Qualys respectfully requests that the Court grant its Administrative Motion to File Documents Under Seal.
