Per PersonalWeb’s request, the Court held a case management conference on July 28, 2020. In that conference the Court informed the parties that in order for the Court to rule on Amazon’s objection to PersonalWeb’s opposition evidence (presented in Amazon’s Reply brief at ECF 612), the Court must first resolve the discovery dispute presented in PersonalWeb’s Motion for Protective Order. The Court set a further case management conference on July 30, 2020 to give counsel an opportunity to confer with their clients.

On July 29, 2020, Amazon filed a notice withdrawing its arguments made in its Reply brief in support of the Motion for Attorneys’ Fees and Costs (ECF 612) appearing at page/line 9:25-11:7. ECF 618. To be clear, Amazon has not waived any other rights.

Accordingly, the Court VACATES the Further Case Management Conference set for July 30, 2020. Further, in light of Amazon’s withdrawal of its objection to PersonalWeb’s evidence, the Court TERMINATES AS MOOT PersonalWeb’s Motion for Protective Order at ECF 610 WITHOUT PREJUDICE. The Court will hear arguments on Amazon’s Motion for Attorneys’ Fees and Costs on August 6, 2020, as scheduled.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Dated: July 29, 2020

United States District Judge
