Subject: Use by Garmin of certain Philips patents

Dear Mr. Pemble,

This letter is written to Garmin Switzerland GmbH and its worldwide affiliates including without limitation Garmin International, Inc. (collectively "Garmin") on behalf of Philips Intellectual Property & Standards ("IP&S"). IP&S is authorized to license patents owned or controlled by Koninklijke Philips N.V. (previously known as Koninklijke Philips Electronics N.V.) and its affiliates (collectively "Philips") including without limitation Philips Electronics North America Corporation and U.S. Philips Corporation.

We note that Garmin is involved in the manufacturing, advertising, offering for sale, importing, licensing and/or selling of products and services in the field of activity trackers in the United States of America, Europe, China, Japan and other countries.

This letter serves as formal notice that certain of these Garmin products and services infringe one or more granted US patents and their foreign counterparts, owned or controlled by Philips, as indicated and identified more particular in Exhibit 1. With respect to US 6013007, we would like to continue the discussions you have had with IPXI.

For example, as shown in Exhibit 1, Garmin vivoactive infringes US 6013007, US 7325453, US 7401495, US 7204145, US 7088233 and US 6397235, and Garmin Connect infringes US 6602191.

Philips is willing to discuss with Garmin the terms and conditions of a non-exclusive, world-wide license under the patents listed in Exhibit 1.

PHILIPS

We wish to schedule a meeting with Garmin to discuss this matter, at a mutually convenient time and place, within two months from the date of this letter. Kindly let us know, at your earliest convenience, who will be the contact person in your organization with whom we can arrange such a meeting.

For good order's sake, all Philips' rights in respect of the unauthorized use of the patents listed in Exhibit 1 remain formally reserved.

Yours sincerely,

Philips Intellectual Property & Standards

H.A. Pastink
Senior IP Counsel
