HOW DOES MY FITBIT DEVICE CALCULATE DISTANCE TRAVELED?

Fitbit devices use the formula below to calculate distance. Your stride length is determined by your height and sex.

$$\text{Steps} \times \text{Stride Length} = \text{Distance Traveled}$$

When you track an activity with GPS, your device calculates your distance using GPS data rather than steps. If you begin moving before you get a GPS signal, your device calculates distance using your steps until GPS connects.
