Exhibits A-N, P, R-V, and Z-BB all contain “Confidential” or “Highly Confidential – Attorneys Eyes Only” information pursuant to the Protective Order (ECF No. 125) entered in this case, or otherwise describe or quote such designated materials.

Exhibits AA-BB were designated by Defendants and comprise expert deposition transcripts. Exhibits A-N, P, R-V, and Z were designated by Neo and comprise expert reports, expert deposition transcripts, and confidential licensing presentations.

Exhibits I, P, and Z may contain “QUALCOMM – OUTSIDE ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY – SOURCE CODE” information pursuant to the Supplemental Protective Order (ECF No. 126) entered in this case, or otherwise describe or quote such designated materials.

Determination of a motion for leave to file under seal is within the sound discretion of the district court. Meyer Goldberg, Inc. v. Fisher Foods, Inc., 823 F.2d 159, 161 (6th Cir. 1987). The right of the public to access judicial records “is not absolute,” and the Sixth Circuit recognizes that “certain privacy rights of participants” are significant interests which can outweigh the public’s right to access. Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp. v. F.T.C., 710 F.2d 1165, 1179 (6th Cir. 1983) (citing Nixon v. Warner Commc’ns, Inc., 435 U.S. 589, 598 (1978)) (additional citations omitted).

Here, the information sought to be filed under seal includes confidential and highly confidential information (such as source code, financials, licensing communications, technical information, etc.) for the parties in this case, as well as relevant third parties. Neo’s Motion, the supporting Brief, and the exhibits thereto should be permitted to be filed under seal to respect the privacy rights of the parties. See id. at 1179. These exhibits should be permitted to be filed under seal to respect the competitive advantage that the parties achieve by keeping detailed financial information private. See Apple Inc. v. Samsung Elecs., Co., 727 F.3d 1214, 1225–26 (Fed. Cir. 2013) (holding the district court abused its discretion in ordering unsealing as such the parties have “a significant interest in preventing the release of their detailed financial information.”). Good cause therefore exists for the proposed sealed filing, and no opposition exists.

For the reasons set forth above, the Neo respectfully requests that the Court grant its Unopposed Motion for Leave to File Under Seal.

A proposed Order is concurrently submitted through the ECF system.
