Re: Network-1 Technologies, Inc. v. Google LLC, et al.,
Case Nos. 14 Civ. 2396 (PGG) & 14 Civ. 9558 (PGG)

Dear Judge Gardephe:

The parties write to jointly request additional pages for both Plaintiff Network-1's reply and Defendants' sur-reply claim construction briefs.

In accordance with the parties' prior stipulation, as entered by the Court, Network-1's reply claim construction brief is due this Friday, July 19 and Defendants' sur-reply is due August 9. Case No. 14 Civ. 2396 (PGG), Dkt. No. 155 at 2.

Pursuant to Your Honor's Individual Rules of Practice for Civil Cases, Section IV.B, the parties understand the default page limit for each of these briefs is 10 pages. For a number of reasons, Plaintiff and Defendants agree that a 15-page limit is appropriate for their respective briefs. There are four claim terms at issue across three patents, and Defendants assert that two of the terms render the claims in which they appear invalid as indefinite under 35 U.S.C. § 112. In addition, this litigation has a protracted procedural history, including administrative proceedings before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board of the United States Patent and Trademark Office and appeals to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, which addressed points related to those at issue in this briefing.

For the foregoing reasons, the parties respectfully request that the joint stipulation and proposed order attached to this letter reflecting these page limit alterations be entered by the Court.
