	DISCLOSURE OF ASSERTED CLAIMS AND INFRINGEMENT CONT. Case No. 3:12-CV-235

Plaintiff Ameranth, Inc. hereby serves its Disclosure of Asserted Claims and Infringement Contentions under Patent Local Rule 3.1, as to Defendant Apple, Inc. ("Apple").

Discovery in this case is ongoing and the Court has not yet construed the asserted claims of the Patents-in-Suit. Further, Apple has not fully produced documents requested by Ameranth and has not provided sufficient responses to Ameranth's other written discovery requests.

Accordingly, Ameranth reserves the right to serve Amended Infringement Contentions under Patent Local Rule 3.6(a), by Court order, or as otherwise permitted. Under Patent Local Rule 3.2, Ameranth is making a document production and hereby separately identifies by bates numbers which documents correspond to categories (a) - (e) of Patent Local Rule 3.2 in Exhibit B attached hereto.

A. Claims Infringed.

Apple infringes, directly and/or indirectly, at least claims 10, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,384,850 (the "'850 patent"); claim 13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,871,325 (the "'325 patent"); claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 9, and 10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,984,733 (the "'733 patent"), and claims 8, 13, 15, 16, 17, and 18 of U.S. Patent No. 8,146,077 (the "'077 patent").

B. Accused Instrumentality.

With respect to Passbook and related software and aspects of the Apple ecosystem, the "Apple iOS System" or "Accused System" means and includes the current and all previous "versions" (from at least iOS 6 through iOS 7, and regardless of whether alleged by defendant to be revisions, different versions, or different systems) of the Apple iOS that are Passbook-compatible, including all versions of the iOS that include Passbook capability, which involves wireless and internet integration into a Point-of-Sale ("POS") system, ordering system, reservations system, ticketing system, customer loyalty system or other application or system. Apple handheld computing devices included within the definition of the Accused System for purposes of infringement of this claim include all versions of iPhone and iPod Touch (operating with iOS) having the aforementioned functionality, as well as any other Apple handheld computing device having the aforementioned functionality.

With respect to infringement of the '733 claims by Siri and related software and other aspects of the Apple ecosystem, the "Apple System" or "Accused System," as used herein, means and includes the current and all previous "versions" (from at least iOS 4 through iOS 7, and regardless of whether alleged by defendant to be revisions, different versions, or different systems) of the Apple iOS, including but not limited to versions of the iOS which include Siri voice recognition capability, which involves wireless and internet integration into a Point-of-Sale ("POS") system, reservations system, ticketing system, customer loyalty system or other application or system. Apple devices included within the definition of the Accused System for purposes of infringement of this claim include all versions of iPhone and iTouch (operating with iOS) having the aforementioned functionality as well as any other Apple handheld computing device having the aforementioned functionality, and for the claims indicated, all relevant versions of iPad.

C. Claim Charts.

Charts for each of the patents-in-suit that identify specifically where each limitation of each asserted claim is found within the Accused Instrumentality for each assertion of direct infringement are attached hereto as Exhibit A. These identifications are based on Ameranth's present understanding of information currently available to Ameranth, and Ameranth reserves the right to supplement these charts as discovery proceeds.

D. Indirect Infringement.

Ameranth has noted in the claim charts attached as Exhibit A the claims that Ameranth contends Apple has directly and indirectly infringed. As set forth in the claim charts, in addition to direct infringement, Apple is liable for induced infringement and contributory infringement as noted in the charts.

E. Literal Infringement and Doctrine of Equivalents.

Ameranth presently contends that the Apple Ticketing System infringes the asserted claims of the patents-in-suit literally. Ameranth has noted in the claim charts attached as Exhibit A the claim elements that Ameranth contends are literally infringed and/or present under the doctrine of equivalents.

F. Priority.

The '325 patent claims priority to an earlier application, U.S. Serial No. 09/400,413, which was filed on September 21, 1999 and from which the '850 patent issued. The '733 patent is a continuation-in-part (filed on November 1, 2001) of the U.S. Serial No. 09/400,413 application, and claims a priority date of November 1, 2001 for the material added via the CIP application which is recited in the '733 patent claims asserted herein, and September 21, 1999 for all claimed elements which were disclosed in the September 21, 1999 priority application. The '077 patent also claims priority to U.S. Serial No. 09/400,413 filed on September 21, 1999. Ameranth asserts a conception date for the asserted claims of the '850, '325 and '077 patents of September 1998 and reduction to practice prior to the priority application filing date. Ameranth asserts a conception date for the asserted claims of the '733 patent for the material added via the CIP application which is recited in the '733 patent claims asserted herein of at least as early as January 2000 and reduction to practice prior to the November 1, 2001 priority application filing date for such elements. For elements of the asserted claims of the '733 patent which were disclosed in the September 1998 priority application, Ameranth asserts a 1 conception date of September 1998 and reduction to practice prior to September 21, 1999. 3 G.
