Starbucks, Ex. 1087, Starbucks v. Ameranth, CBM2015-00091

21CR Product Overview

- Leading software suite that enables mobile users to easily access most POS features from wireless handheld devices -
- Ameranth's Communication Controller routes and synchronizes information between handhelds and the POS system/database while automatically generating the handheld menus and screens.
- Information is available in real-time, so that handhelds, fixed terminals and the internet may be continually used simultaneously from a single database.
- Deployed in hundreds of locations worldwide - including many of the premier restaurant, hotel, cruise ship, sports stadium and casino locations.
- Ameranth's 21CR software is protected by a strong suite of patents/intellectual property including United States Patent Nos. 6,384,850; 6,871,325 and 6,982,733.
