Mr. Radio Frequency,

About where to demo...

Tom told me that the demo is basically ready, with a few edits being made this week. I'll be able to show it to you tomorrow. It's sweet. Lotta work done under the hood. However, the technical issues underlying getting it to run on ANYBODY ELSE's machine require that a programmer install the system on your machine at this point, and we have to preserve our programming resources to write code. Therefore, we must do it at our offices. Hope that's not going to cause a problem. Next week, we can work on installing and configuring your machines to have a flawless demo work over there.
Stephan is getting trained at installing Java VM's and stuff right now.

So, I'll see you at 11 am at my office. I thought we could keep it small for now. Happy to host another large meeting next week for the entire design staff. Also, please bring your latest presentation on disk and printout so we can review it.

Moses

PS, did you receive our invoice? Our mail is screwed up... just wanted to know if you've already sent a check. Anyway, we can talk about this tomorrow.

Joke for the day...

The Difference between Heaven and Hell...

    In Heaven:
    The management is from Intel,
    The design and construction is done by Apple,
    The marketing is done by Microsoft,
    IBM provides the support,
    Gateway determines the pricing.

    In Hell:
    The management is from Apple,
    Microsoft does design and construction,
    IBM handles the marketing,
    The support is from Gateway,
    Intel sets the price.
