Page 3 1 JUDGE PLENZLER: Good morning. This 2. is Judge Plenzler at the Patent Trial and Appeal Board. This is the conference call for 3 CBM2015-00161, '172, '179, '181, and '182. I'm 4 5 joined on the call by Judges Medley and Petravick. Do we have someone on the call for 6 7 Petitioner? MR. SOKOHL: Yes, Your Honor. This 8 is Rob Sokohl and with me today is Lori Gordon, Richard Bemben, and Adam Kessel. 10 11 JUDGE PLENZLER: All right. Thank 12 you. 13 And for Patent Owner? 14 MS. EMSLEY: For Patent Owner, this 15 is Rachel Emsley, and with me on the call is Erica 16 Arner. 17 JUDGE PLENZLER: All right. Thank 18 you. 19 And is there a court reporter? 20 THE COURT REPORTER: There is, Your 21 Honor. 2.2 JUDGE PLENZLER: All right. 23 And I assume that's Patent Owner's 24 court reporter? 2.5 MS. EMSLEY: That's correct.

JUDGE PLENZLER: All right. And I'm sure by now you're familiar with the procedure for getting that in the record, so I won't go over the details.

Patent Owner requested this call, it looks like, to discuss a request to file an offer of proof, so we're going to hear from them first.

But before we do, I would just like a little background information, just to clarify the whole procedure for how this all came about, primarily with respect to the request and the grant of relief from the District Court for the protective order.

If you could just explain, just very briefly, the timeline as far as, you know, when you received the information that the District Court has now given you relief to use, when you requested permission to use it, and then when the District Court ultimately granted that relief, that would be appreciated.

MS. EMSLEY: Yes, Your Honor. This is Rachel Emsley. I need to look at the exact filings in the District Court. But when the Board denied TT's motion for additional discovery, the Board noted that the District Court could authorize the Patent Owner to use the District Court discovery in these proceedings, that discovery being subject to the District Court's protective order, as you know.

So following that denial of additional discovery, Trading Technologies filed a motion with the District Court for relief from the protective order so that we could submit the documents themselves in an offer of proof, getting relief from the protective order.

So on July 13th the District Court entered an order that adopts the District Court's ruling as stated in open court in a hearing on July 7th. So both parties were represented at that hearing.

The District Court therefore granted permission for TT to submit the documents and transcripts identified in the motion for additional discovery, and that's the same discovery that the District Court previously granted despite the stay because of its potential relevance to this PTAB proceeding. And this was specific for the offer of proof in the PTAB.

So I'm not sure exactly the date that that was filed. I need to look back at that for a
