BRIAN J. McNAMARA, Administrative Patent Judge.

ORDER AUTHORIZING FILING OF OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR JOINDER

37C.F.R. 42.122(b)

On April 29, 2013, Motorola Mobility LLC (Motorola Mobility) filed a petition to institute IPR2013-00256 concerning U.S. Patent No. 7,461,353 (the ‘353 Patent). The ‘353 patent is the subject of IPR2013-00007 which has already been instituted. Motorola Mobility also filed a petition to institute IPR2013-00257, which concerns U.S. Patent No. 7,831,926 (the ‘926 Patent). The ‘926 patent is the subject of IPR2013-00004, which also has already been instituted. Both the ‘353 Patent and the ‘926 Patent are owned by Softview LLC (Patent Owner).

Motorola Mobility’s petition to institute IPR2013-00256 asserts the same grounds of unpatentability as those on which we instituted inter partes review IPR2013-00007. Motorola Mobility’s petition to institute IPR2013-00257 asserts the same grounds of unpatentability as those on which we instituted inter partes review IPR2013-00004. In view of its assertion of the same grounds of unpatentability, Motorola Mobility has moved for joinder of IPR2013-00256 with IPR2013-00007 and joinder of IPR2013-00257 with IPR2013-00004 (Motions For Joinder).

Granting Motorola’s Motions for Joinder could have an effect on the proceedings in IPR2013-00004 and IPR2013-00007. Motorola Mobility has addressed some of the potential effects in its Motions For Joinder and proposed approaches to accomplish the joinder with minimal impact on the current schedule in IPR2013-00004 and IPr2013-00007. However, the parties in IPR2013-00004 and IPR2013-00007 may have additional concerns.

Case IPR2013-00256
Patent 7,461,353

Therefore it is ORDERED that the parties in inter partes reviews IPR2013-00004 and IPR2013-00007 (i.e., Petitioner, Kyocera Corporation, and Patent Owner, Softview LLC) are authorized to file up to a 10 page Opposition against each of Motorola Mobility's Motions For Joinder not later than 10 calendar days from the date of this Order.
