Chris,

Thank you for your email regarding a protective order. Ms. Ellison had originally requested and we had agreed to entry of a protective order back on January 16, 2015 and then on January 21, 2015 Ms. Ellison advised that a protective order was not necessary. Therefore, I am surprised that Immunogen waited until now to re-request a protective order in order to belatedly produce evidence that should have been included with its January 22nd Response. By doing so Immunogen has delayed our review of these documents by 21 days.

Would Immunogen agree to join in a request to the Board to extend Phigenix reply due date by one week to April 23, 2015?

Regards,
Greg

Ping,

We currently have our supplemental evidence ready for service tomorrow, February 12, 2015, which will include supplemental evidence of confidential IMS data.

Therefore, attached to this email is a Proposed Joint Protective Order already executed by us. We ask that you review it and return an executed copy by tomorrow, so that we may serve this confidential IMS data subject to the Protective Order. If we do not receive your executed copy by tomorrow, we reserve the right to serve our supplemental evidence at a time after which an agreed upon Protective Order is in place.

Regards,
Chris
