The '930 Patent Discloses “Interacting” By Scrolling Through Channels In a Favorite Channel List

15 The user may be able to specify a list of favorite channels for a number of categories. The favorites lists may be synchronized with the channel lineup offered by a cable or satellite service provider. During the setup of personal favorites, a user may specify a group (of channels) that they always 20 want to cycle through. The channels selected for personal favorites do not need to be in the same category (i.e., be available from the same device). For example, a news favorite might include local broadcast channels while a movie favorite might include a cable channel. A personal favorites group 25 may include a unlimited number of channels or may be limited in number to, for example, no more than seven entries in order to balance the time consumed in stepping through the channel possibilities against the amount of program material offered.

Patent Owner's Expert Admits That "Interact With" Includes Scrolling

4 Q. And there's nothing in there to 5 suggest that scrolling through or viewing
6 information in the display not -- would be 7 excluded from interacting with?

8 A. No. I don't see anything that 9 excludes that.

(Ex. 1052, 137:4-9)

14 Q. When you press the up or down
15 key to transmit the first channel on the 16 list and the second channel on the list,
17 are you interacting with the list?

18 A. You're interacting with the 19 list, but the requirement is to interact
20 with the list when it's displayed. And I
21 don't believe in that case that the list is 22 displayed, only the last action is 23 displayed.
