2. In 1996, I became the Director of Engineering, USB Products for SystemSoft and the USB Device Working Group Document Review Board Secretary. My team at SystemSoft Corporation created one of the first prototype USB peripherals to be tested at a USB compliance event.
3. I am currently the Program Manager for the USB Implementers Forum (“USB-IF”) Device Working Group (DWG).
4. USB technology has been my primary focus since the USB 1.0 Specification was published in January 1996, and I have participated as a speaker and seminar leader at a number of USB-IF Developers Conferences, an Intel Developer Forum in Taiwan, as well as many other technical meetings.
5. In addition to being a co-author of the original USB 1.0 Specification, I was a reviewer and contributor of work leading to the publication of the USB Specification Revision 1.1.
6. Attached as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of the Universal Serial Bus Specification Revision 1.1. Based on my experience in the development of USB technology, my involvement with the USB Specification Revision 1.1 and USB-IF, and my personal knowledge, the USB Specification Revision 1.1 attached as Exhibit A was publicly available as of September 1998.
7. I received a copy of the USB Specification Revision 1.1 through my involvement with the USB-IF.
8. It has been a part of my regular practice in my occupation in the field of USB technology to keep a record of the USB Specification Revision 1.1.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.
