Microsoft® WINDOWS NT™ SERVER

Network Operating System Version 3.5

The Microsoft Server Family

The Microsoft® family of server products builds on the power, usability, and integration of Windows NT™ Server. Its modular client-server architecture helps you build networks and services at your own pace, adding capabilities as you need them. The result is a secure foundation for creating, connecting, and maintaining flexible business applications in your enterprise. Other members of the Microsoft Server family include:

Microsoft SQL Server™: client-server database management system.

Support high-volume transaction processing applications where performance, reliability, and manageability are requirements.

Microsoft Systems Management Server: centralized management for distributed systems.

Perform inventory, distribution, troubleshooting, and maintenance of software and hardware on PC networks.

Third-party server applications.

A broad selection of third-party server applications offers unique services to help solve your business problems.

Microsoft Exchange Server: client-server messaging and groupware.

Provide enterprise-wide electronic mail, scheduling, forms routing, and other server-based messaging.

Microsoft SNA Server: connectivity for IBM® enterprise networks.

Provide flexible access to enterprise applications on these systems.

Microsoft Windows NT Server: network operating system.

The best network foundation for the new generation of business solutions.

Version 3.5

0894 Part No. 58167

6. The Windows NT Server 3.5 Materials included a CD-ROM, pictured below. The CD-ROM was shrink-wrapped in unbroken cellophane and bears a copyright date of 1994. In addition, the CD-ROM bears the same identifying sticker (which was under the unbroken cellophane shrink-wrap) as the CD-ROM discussed in the declarations of Yuri Kolesnikov and Leslie Ehrlich, submitted as Exhibits 1017 and 1018, respectively, in proceeding IPR2013-00246 regarding U.S. Patent No. 6,108,704. I have reviewed the contents of the CD-ROM included in the Windows NT Server 3.5 Materials, and they appear to be the same as the contents of the CD-ROM discussed in the Kolesnikov and Ehrlich declarations.
