

4. On information and belief, AT&T Mobility LLC is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business at Glenridge Highlands Two, 5565 Glenridge Connector, Atlanta, Georgia 30342. AT&T Mobility LLC's registered agent for service of process in Texas is CT Corporation System, 350 N. St. Paul St., Dallas, Texas 75201.

5. Upon information and belief, AT&T has conducted and regularly conducts business within this District, has purposefully availed itself of the privileges of conducting business in this District, and has sought protection and benefit from the laws of the State of Texas.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This action arises under the Patent Laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. § 1, et seq., including 35 U.S.C. §§ 271, 281, 283, 284, and 285. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this case for patent infringement under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a).

7. As further detailed herein, this Court has personal jurisdiction over AT&T. AT&T is amenable to service of summons for this action. Furthermore, personal jurisdiction over AT&T Inc. in this action comports with due process. AT&T Inc. has headquarters at 208 Akard Street, Dallas, Texas 75202, and AT&T maintains at least twenty (20) stores in this District. AT&T has conducted and regularly conducts business within the United States, this State, and this District. AT&T has purposefully availed itself of the privileges of conducting business in the United States, and more specifically in Texas and this District. AT&T has sought protection and benefit from the laws of the State of Texas by maintaining corporate headquarters in Texas, by maintaining stores in this District, and by placing infringing products into the stream of commerce through an established distribution channel with the awareness and/or intent that they will be purchased by consumers in this District.

8. AT&T – directly or through intermediaries (including distributors, retailers, and others), subsidiaries, alter egos, and/or agents – ships, distributes, offers for sale, and/or sells its products in the United States and this District. AT&T has purposefully and voluntarily placed one or more of its infringing products, as described below, into the stream of commerce with the awareness and/or intent that they will be purchased by consumers in this District. AT&T knowingly and purposefully ships infringing products into this District through an established distribution channel. These infringing products have been and continue to be purchased by consumers in this District. Upon information and belief, through those activities, AT&T has committed the tort of patent infringement in this District and/or has induced others to commit patent infringement in this District. Plaintiff's cause of action for patent infringement arises directly from AT&T's activities in this District.

9. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b), (c), and (d), as well as 28 U.S.C. § 1400(b). One or more of IDT's witnesses reside in this District. AT&T is subject to personal jurisdiction in this District, and therefore is deemed to reside in this District for purposes of venue, and, upon information and belief, AT&T has committed acts within this judicial District giving rise to this action and does business in this District, including but not limited to making sales in this District, providing service and support to their respective customers in this District, and/or operating an interactive website that is available to persons in this District, which website advertises, markets, and/or offers for sale infringing products.

Jeffery R. Parker, Timothy A. McCollum, and Robert M. Ezell are the inventors listed on the ’196 patent.

17. U.S. Patent No. 8,215,816 titled “Light Emitting Panel Assemblies” (“the ’816 patent”) was duly and legally issued by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on July 10, 2012, after full and fair examination. Jeffery R. Parker is the sole inventor listed on the ’816 patent.

18. The ’196 patent is referred to as the “DDG patent.”

19. The '547 patent, the '194 patent, the '177 patent, the '660 patent, the '974 patent, the '370 patent, and the '816 patent are collectively referred to as the "IDT patents." Together, the "DDG patent" and the "IDT patents" are the "patents-in-suit."

20. On June 26, 2013, IDT was assigned all of the right, title, and interest in the IDT patents, including the exclusive right to sue and collect for its own use and benefit all claims for damages by reason of past infringement or use of the IDT patents.

21. On December 20, 2013, DDG was assigned all of the right, title, and interest in the DDG patent, including the exclusive right to sue and collect for its own use and benefit all claims for damages by reason of past infringement or use of the DDG patent.

22. The patents-in-suit all share the same ultimate parent patent, U.S. Patent No. 5,613,751. The patents-in-suit share inventors, subject matter, and claim terms. The accused products infringe the patents-in-suit based on the use of the same technology, e.g., backlights for LCDs. And IDT and DDG share a common corporate parent.

B. AT&T's Infringing Conduct.

23. Upon information and belief, AT&T offers to sell and/or sells within and/or imports into the United States display products that use the fundamental technologies covered by the patents-in-suit. Upon information and belief, the infringing display products include, but are not limited to mobile phones and tablets with an LCD.

24. By incorporating the fundamental inventions covered by the patents-in-suit, AT&T can sell improved products, including but not limited to, products with longer displays, thinner displays, and/or displays with a higher light output, a more uniform light output, a lower power requirement, and/or a longer battery life.
