3. Attach second rubber band from first right-side peg to second middle peg as shown.

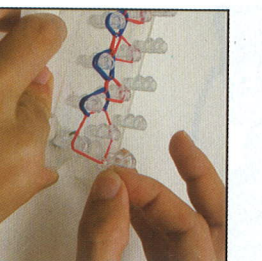

4. Attach next rubber band from the second center peg to the peg diagonally to the right.

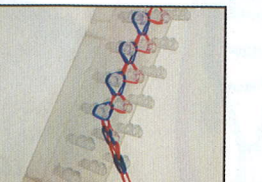

7. Use the hook to pull up the second band. Hook the band from the bottom and loop it up and over the next peg diagonally to the left.

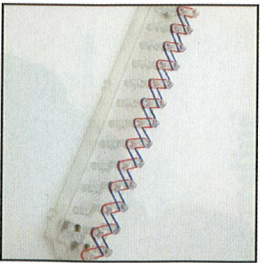

8. Pick up third band and pull it up.

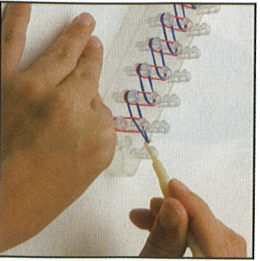

11. Attach a clip to the first rubber band (at the bottom of the loom).

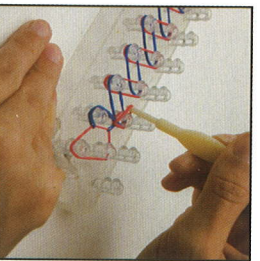

12. Holding the clip gently pull all the bands up and off.

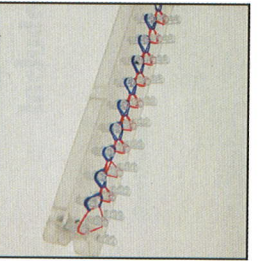

5. Continue to attach bands this way, creating a zigzag pattern, all the way to the end of the loom.

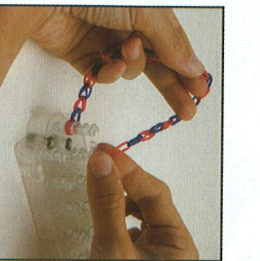

6. Turn the loom around so that the arrows are now facing down (toward you). The pegs have openings to help you slip the hook under the top rubber band and pull the bottom rubber band through.

9. Loop it over the next peg. Repeat this step for the next band.

10. Continue all the way to the end of the loom. Try not to twist the bands.

13. Slip the last band onto the clip to secure the bracelet.

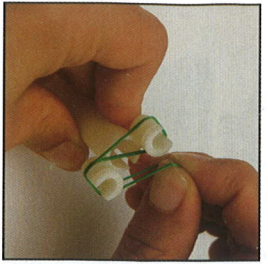

14. Congratulations! You just made your first Bandaloom bracelet.

Using the Mini Bandaloom

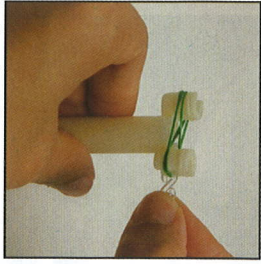

Use the mini loom to make rings and other small projects. Take it wherever you go and create Bandaloom jewelry on the go!

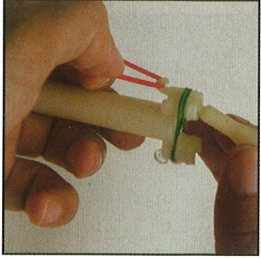

1. Loop a band around top peg. Pull it forward and around the bottom peg. Then loop the end of the band back around the top peg.

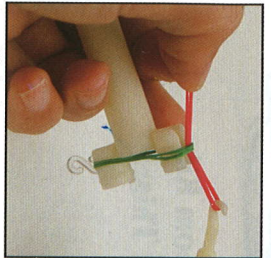

2. It should look like the picture above.

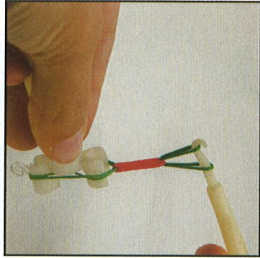

3. Attach a clip to one end of the band.

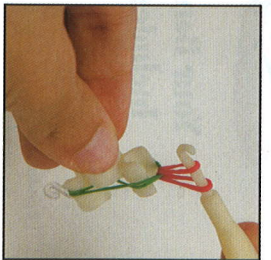

4. Slide the band hook through the top peg, and attach a second band to the hook as shown.

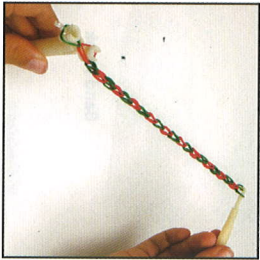

5. Hold the bottom of the second band and pull the hook up and through the peg.

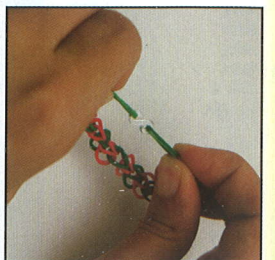

7. Slide another band through the two loops of the second band and onto the hook. TIP: It helps to hold the hook facing downward when pulling the new band through the loops of the previous band.

6. Slide the end of the band you were holding over the hook through the other end of the second band.

8. Repeat these steps until you have the length you want.

9. Attach the end to the clip.
