

STATUTORY DECLARATION

I, Rupert Lee of The British Library, 96 Euston Road, London NW1 2DB, United Kingdom, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that:

1. I am an Information Expert at the British Library (the Library) and have worked for the Library for 26 years. I have access to and knowledge of the records and record keeping practices and procedures of the Library. I have reviewed these records and record keeping practices to prepare this declaration. Based on that review, the ordinary practices and procedures of the Library and my personal knowledge and belief, I make the following declaration.
2. The Reading Rooms of the Library are open to any bona fide enquirer and any publication in the Library may be consulted in the Reading Rooms on request. Any organisation or individual may purchase photocopies of extracts from publications.
3. On the 8th of July, 1993 the Library received a copy of Power Plant Health Monitoring – The Human Factor, by M. J. Ward, a paper originally presented at the 10th Annual Symposium of the Royal Aeronautical Society, New Zealand Division, on 13th-14th February 1992. It was to the best of my knowledge received intact and was assigned the Library shelfmark 8019.322000. It was then catalogued on 26th of July, 1993 and would have been available for public use to the best of my knowledge and belief from that date. There is now produced to me and marked "A" a true and correct copy of the cover page showing the Library pressmark and receipt date stamp and the cataloguing date stamp<sup>1</sup>.
4. The Library pressmark and receipt date stamp and the cataloguing date stamp were made at or near the time of the matters set forth therein, by—or from information transmitted by—a person with knowledge. These records were kept in the course of a regularly conducted activity of the Library. These records were made as a regular practice in the course of a regularly conducted activity.
