I. INTRODUCTION

Patent Owner, Robert Bosch LLC ("Bosch"), submits this preliminary response to the Petition filed by Costco Wholesale Corporation ("Petitioner" or "Costco") as Paper No. 1 in this proceeding, requesting inter partes review ("IPR") of claims 1–3 of U.S. Patent No. 6,836,926 ("Petition"). This response is timely pursuant to the Board's Notice in Paper No. 3.

The following arguments are not intended to be exhaustive with respect to the grounds asserted in the Petition. Bosch respectfully submits the streamlined arguments showing that denial of institution is appropriate here, and reserves the right to provide additional evidence, including testimonial evidence, and to include new arguments, should the Board decide to institute review in this case.

Bosch respectfully submits that Petitioner has not established a reasonable likelihood that it would prevail with respect to any of the challenged claims. Accordingly, Bosch respectfully requests that the Board decline to institute inter partes review for the reasons set forth below.

II. SUMMARY OF ARGUMENTS

The Petition fails for several reasons.

First, Petitioner has proposed that the Board apply claim constructions that Petitioner explicitly disputes. These claim constructions are drawn from Bosch's proposed claim constructions in district court. However, Bosch objects to
