MONOSOL RX, LLC,
Patent Owner

Case IPR2016-00281 (Patent 8,603,514 B2)
Case IPR2016-00282 (Patent 8,017,150 B2)¹

DECLARATION OF DANIEL DORAN

¹ Per Order, Paper 8 (281 IPR) and Paper 7 (282 IPR), fn. 1, Patent Owner hereby attests, in connection with this paper, that it is filing the word-for-word identical paper in each proceeding identified in the heading.

I, Daniel Doran, hereby declare as follows:

1. I am the Docketing Manager for Hoffmann & Baron, LLP, with offices at 6900 Jericho Turnpike, Syosset NY 11791 and 6 Campus Drive, Parsippany, NJ 07054 (“Hoffmann” or the “Firm”).
2. I oversee the general operations of communications with the Firm, including all incoming mail and documents received via the mail room in Syosset and the docketing and distribution thereof. I am also in charge of the process of opening new matters in the Firm and ensuring that the identification of these new matters are correctly entered into the Firm’s docketing and billing systems.
3. On December 7, 2015, the Firm’s mail room in Syosset received, among other things, three banker’s boxes from FedEx. The boxes had FedEx shipping labels with the following tracking numbers: 7751 1902 8582; 7751 1902 8983; and 7751 1902 9203. All three boxes were from GOODWIN PROCTOR, 620 8TH AVENUE, NEW YORK, N.Y. 10018 and were addressed to:

HOFFMANN & BARON LLP
RB PHARMACEUTICALS LTD: MONOSOL RX
6900 JERICHO TURNPIKE
SYOSSET NY 11791.

4. The three boxes from Goodwin Proctor were opened in my presence, in my office. I examined the contents of the three boxes in order to properly docket the documents in the boxes. In examining the contents, I located documents suitable for docketing entitled "Petition for Inter Partes Review of US Patent 8,475,832" and "Petition for Inter Partes Review of US Patent 8,603,514". I went to the USPTO PTAB Trials portal for IPRs and searched by the patent number on each of the petitions and learned that they had received case numbers IPR2016-00280 and IPR2016-00281, respectively. Separate client matters were opened for each and they also received separate sequential internal billing numbers of 1199-0784 and 1199-0785, respectively. That is because internal billing numbers are automatically assigned sequentially by the Firm's intake software for each client, in this case MonoSol Rx LLC (1199).
5. The three boxes I examined did not contain a petition for any other patent. In particular, there was no Petition for Inter Partes Review of US Patent 8,017,150 in the three FedEx boxes received on December 7, 2015 from Goodwin Proctor.
6. Had the Petition for Inter Partes Review of US Patent 8,017,150 been in the three boxes it would have received the next consecutive internal billing number for the client, i.e., internal billing number 1199-0786. Instead the internal billing number 1199-0786 for MonoSol was generated on December 8, 2015 for an unrelated matter. Ultimately, Inter Partes Review of US Patent 8,017,150 received the next internal billing number of 1199-0787 on December 14, 2015.

7. On Monday, December 7, 2015, after ascertaining the parties involved in the petitions, I notified Michael Chakansky, among others, of the Firm's Parsippany, NJ office of the receipt of the IPR petitions for the 8,475,832 and 8,603,514 patents. Later that day, Mr. Chakansky called me and instructed me to reseal and send him the three boxes, complete with all their contents and shipping labels as attached, by overnight FedEx to his office in Parsippany, which I did that day.
8. On Friday, December 18, 2015, among other items received, the Hoffmann & Baron mail room in Syosset received a banker's box from FedEx. The box was from GOODWIN PROCTOR LLP, 901 NEW YORK AVE NW FL 9, WASHINGTON DC, 20001 and was addressed to:

MONOSOL RX, LLC
RB PHARMACEUTICALS LTD
6900 JERICHO TURNPIKE
SYOSSET NY 11791.

9. On that day, Friday, December 18, 2015, I examined the contents of the box and located three documents suitable for docketing which pertained to PTAB notices of filing dates accorded in IPR2016-00280, IPR2016-00281 and IPR2016-00282.
10. On that day, Friday, December 18, 2015, I notified Michael Chakansky of the receipt of the box and the three notices referenced in paragraph 9 and Mr. Chakansky instructed me to reseal and send him the box complete with all its contents and its shipping label as attached, by overnight FedEx to his office in Parsippany, which I did.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on March 10, 2016.
