Baby carrier was decorated with a sunburst design with an allover stitching pattern in the background. By Nina Stull.

Baby Carrier

Baby carriers are a tremendous aid to young parents who don't intend to hibernate while the babies are small. They are helpful to the mother with another small child and almost indispensable for errands and shopping when the baby accompanies the parent. Many have plain panels which invite decorative additions. In the decorative design done on the carrier in the photograph, the background was filled with a filigree pattern of machine stitching. The drawings may give you other ideas.
