BEFORE THE PATENT TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD

REACTIVE SURFACES LTD. LLP,

Petitioner,

v.

TOYOTA MOTOR CORPORATION,

Patent Owner.

Case IPR2016-01914

Patent No. 8,394,618 B2

PATENT OWNERS' UPDATED MANDATORY NOTICES

Pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 42.8, Toyota Motor Corporation (“TMC”) and the Regents of the University of Minnesota (the “University”), the joint owners of the subject patent, submit the following updated mandatory notices.¹

I. Real Parties-in-Interest

The mandatory notices originally submitted by TMC identified TMC, the University, and Toyota Motor Engineering & Manufacturing North America, Inc. (TMC’s corporate subsidiary) as the real parties-in-interest. TMC and the University are not aware of any additional real parties-in-interest.

II. Related Matters

The mandatory notices originally submitted by TMC identified all related judicial or administrative matters of which it was aware. After TMC submitted its original mandatory notices, Petitioner Reactive Surfaces Ltd. LLP filed a petition for inter partes review of another patent jointly owned by TMC and the University, U.S. Patent No. 8,252,571 B2. That petition is pending in IPR2017-00572. TMC and the University are not aware of any additional related matters.

¹ The Petition named TMC as the only patent owner of record. TMC timely submitted its mandatory notices, in which it identified the University as its co-assignee and one of the real parties-in-interest. (Paper 4 at 1.) TMC and the University now jointly submit these updated mandatory notices to confirm the University’s status as a joint owner of the patent.
