SUMMARY

Retired from the faculty at the University of Florida College of Pharmacy in the Department of Pharmaceutics.

Author of over 80 publications and presentations on pharmaceutics, intellectual property, dosage forms, dissolutions, pharmacy education and the history of pharmacy.

Has interacted extensively with USAN and WHO to obtain non-proprietary names for Pharmacia and Upjohn. Past Chairman of the USAN Council. Presently on the USAN review board. Consultant and Expert Witness on litigation involving dose forms, excipients, bioequivalence, and dissolution for numerous litigations. Expert witness before the Office of Generic Drugs.

Twenty-five years of progressive responsibilities in an intellectual property management and technology transfer position coupled with over fifteen years as a professor of pharmaceutics at major universities. Demonstrated and proven ability to set a vision, goals and direction of a department. Demonstrated leadership skills in a departmental and organizational setting. President of a national scientific academy and a major inter-fraternal organization including setting a vision and goals for these organizations during a critical growth period. Recipient of the University of Rhode Island, College of Pharmacy Distinguished Alumni Award.

Successfully led projects across management lines where reporting relationships were often difficult to establish, no precedent existed and the use of creative problem solving and communication skills were necessary.
