These changes may be permanent. TRAVATAN Z[®] solution may gradually change eye color, increasing the amount of brown pigmentation in the iris by increasing the number of melanosomes (pigment granules) in melanocytes. The long term effects on the melanocytes and the consequences of potential injury to the melanocytes and/or deposition of pigment granules to other areas of the eye are currently unknown. The most common adverse event observed in studies with TRAVATAN[®] solution and TRAVATAN Z[®] solution was ocular hyperemia which was reported in 30 to 50 percent of patients. Ocular events reported at an incidence of 5 to 10 percent included decreased visual acuity, eye discomfort, foreign body sensation, pain and pruritus. The recommended dosage is one drop in the affected eye(s) once daily in the evening.
