

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the Wayback Machine search interface. The address bar contains the URL: <https://web.archive.org/web/http://ec.europa.eu/health/documents/community-register/2005/2005090510259/>. The search results section displays a large green message: "No URL has been captured for this domain." Below this message, there is a search filter section with the text "Filter results (i.e. '.txt'):" and a dropdown menu set to "URL or MIME Type". The search results table is empty, showing "No matching URLs found" and "No URLs". The Wayback Machine logo and navigation links are visible at the top of the page.
