Welcome!

The National Computer Security Center (NCSC) and the National Computer Systems Laboratory (NCSL) are pleased to welcome you to the Thirteenth Annual National Computer Security Conference. We believe that the Conference will stimulate a vital and dynamic exchange of information and foster an understanding of emerging technologies.

The theme for this year's conference, "Information Systems Security: Standards -- The Key to the Future," reflects the continuing importance of the broader information systems security issues facing us. At the heart of these issues are two items which will receive special emphasis this week -- Information Systems Security Criteria (and how it affects us) and Education, Training, and Awareness. We are working together, in the Government, Industry, and Academe, in cooperative efforts to improve and expand the state-of-the-art technology to information systems security. This year we are pleased to present a new track by the information security educators. These presentations will provide you with some cost-effective as well as innovative ideas in developing your own on-site information-systems-security education programs. Additionally, we will be presenting an educational program which addresses the automated information security responsibilities. This educational program will refresh us with the perspectives of the past, and will project directions of the future.

We firmly believe that security awareness and responsibility are the cornerstone of any information security program. For our collective success, we ask that you reflect on the ideas and information presented this week; then share this information with your peers, your management, your administration, and your customers. By sharing this information, we will develop a stronger knowledge base for tomorrow's foundations.
