This is a conference call on three IPRs, IPR 2018-0493, IPR 20018-0495, IPR 20018-000508. On the call with me are Judge Pettigrew, Judge Tornquist, and Judge Ogden.  For the record the spelling of our names, my name is Peslak, P, as in Peter, E-S-L-A-K. Judge Pettigrew, is P, as in Peter, E-T-T-I-G-R-E-W. Judge Tornquist, T, as in Thomas, O-R-N-Q-U-I-S-T, and Judge Ogden, O-G-D-E-N.  I understand there's a court reporter. Who arranged for the court reporter?  MR. HUH: Yes, your Honor. This is Gregory Huh on behalf of Petitioner LG Electronics, and we arranged for the court reporter.  JUDGE PESLAK: So we'll ask that you file the transcript as an exhibit in all three cases as soon as possible.  MR. HUH: Will do, your Honor. JUDGE PESLAK: So who is on the line for Petitioner?	IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18  JUDGE PESLAK: All right. And who is on the line for the patent owner?  MS. ZHONG: For the patent owner, this is Annita Zhong, and also with me is Mr. Michael Fleming and Mr. Jason Sheasby.  JUDGE PESLAK: Okay. Just so the record is clear, when you begin to speak, please identify yourself.  The board received an e-mail from Petitioner on June 12 requesting authorization to file a five-page reply to Patent Owner's preliminary response in each of the three identified IPRs. The e-mail indicates that Patent Owner opposes.  We'll hear from the petitioner first. If your argument is the same for all three IPRs, there's no need to repeat it; but if there's something specific for one of the IPRs, please make that clear on the record.  So starting with the petitioner, can you please tell us the facts that you contend support a finding of good cause under 42 CFR, Section 108, Paragraph C to allow the filing of a reply.  MR. HUH: Yes, your Honor. This is there is good cause for us to have leave to file a reply to Patent Owner's preliminary response.

The first reason is that it wasn't foreseen that Patent Owner would have filed the deposition transcript of Mr. Garney who was not LG Electronics expert, and LG Electronics was not a part to the proceeding to which that transcript pertains.

Had LG Electronics filed this transcript with its petition, it wouldn't have been able to produce Mr. Garney for cross-examination during the proceeding. Therefore, Petitioner could not have submitted this transcript along with petition at the early stage of the proceeding.

The second reason why there is good cause is that although Patent Owner argues that LG Electronics was provided this transcript during litigation, LG Electronics' counsel for litigation is different than the counsel for IPRs in all of these three cases.

And at the time of the filing of the petition, IPR counsel was not, was not aware of this transcript at all existing. Moreover, there's a protective order prohibiting LG Electronics' litigation counsel from sharing these documents with us and for us to produce them outside of litigation.

IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18

So we could not have filed Mr. Garney's testimony at the petition stage since we didn't have it in hand and we were not aware of it. For that reason there's good cause, and we should actually have an opportunity now to reply to the filed transcript by Patent Owner.

Third, and I think probably most importantly, is that it would inform the board's analysis and put proper context from Mr. Garney's testimony. And this is important because when you put Mr. Garney's testimony in context, it shows that Mr. Garney was talking about an SE1 signal occurring after enumeration, whereas in the context of the claims of the patent, they require without enumeration.

What that means is that the claims as the SE1 states are occurring before enumeration, and this is the same context for Shiga. Shiga provides an SE1 signal, which is Exhibit 1008, and that signal occurs before enumeration. The petition never argued that the SE1 signal would be utilized after enumeration, which means that Mr. Garney's testimony, which pertains to events occurring after enumeration, has no bearing.

I also want to note that because Shiga itself does, in fact, provide an SE1 signal followed by USB communication, it demonstrates that there's an

IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18 expectation of success in the combination of Shiga and the Dougherty reference, which is a primary reference in all of these proceedings that were filed by Petitioner LG Electronics.

JUDGE PESLAK: Counsel, I think you're deviating from the issue here, which is good cause. You're getting into the merits.

MR. HUH: Yes. And the point is, your Honor, that what Patent Owner has done is they've omitted relevant testimony from Mr. Garney that provides proper context to evaluate that testimony and recognize that, in fact, it doesn't stick for the proposition that they actually assert that it stands for.

So we believe that in order to give the board a full appreciation of what Mr. Garney's testimony stands for and to allow the board to properly weigh that evidence as it pertains to the claims and the prior art, which is how Patent Owner had argued in their POPR, we would ask that we have an opportunity to file a reply to address the arguments raised by Patent Owner in connection with Mr. Garney's testimony.

For those three reasons, your Honor, we think that there are distinct reasons why we should, in fact, have an opportunity here to address the testimony of Page 9

IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18

Mr. Garney.

JUDGE PESLAK: Okay. Patent Owner.

MS. ZHONG: This is Annita Zhong. I'm going to be arguing on behalf of Patent Owner.

What I have heard is an evolving story. In the e-mail to the board the petitioner said they should be allowed to file a reply because Mr. Garney's testimony is hearsay. Now they have totally abandoned that argument because they -- I think they realized that the objection to evidence should not occur -- does not occur until ten days after institution. So the argument to the evidence itself on hearsay ground is basically premature.

Second of all, regarding the good cause or more likely its foreseeability, I would say it's totally foreseeable based on their own argument, which is, I quote -- using IPR2018-508 as an example, page 23 to 24, they say SE1 should be used because its obvious beneficial predictable results. They say SE1 should be used because its suitable for USB signaling. They say SE1 should be because it's logical and [indiscernible].

In response to those arguments it is foreseeable that Patent Owner is going to raise to counter each of those points. And Mr. Garney's testimony directly

IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18 undermines those points, so it's fair -- it's foreseeable that Patent Owner is going to raise such testimony by another neutral expert.

JUDGE PESLAK: What were you just reading from?

MS. ZHONG: I'm reading from the petition, page 23 and 24 of IPR2018-00508 petition.

MR. HUH: To be clear -- this is Gregory Huh, Petitioner never argued that the SE1 signal will be occurring after enumeration and that's exactly what Mr. Garney's testimony pertains to.

MS. ZHONG: Well, first of all, this is wading into the merits of the argument. Second of all, their petition never says that SE1 is going to occur before or after enumeration. That never appeared --

JUDGE PESLAK: We're all getting too far into the merits. Can you get back to why Patent Owner doesn't believe there's good cause here.

MS. ZHONG: Okay. Regarding the second, to say that they are not aware of the Garney testimony, that is just false. It was provided to them. They don't deny that LG is in possession of that transcript two to three weeks before filing it, and that transcript is not sealed. So I don't see what prevents the LG IPR

IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18 counsel receiving that and reviewing that. But in any event, the petition is filed on behalf of LG, and LG was in possession of that transcript before.

So the third point is we feel that just by arguing the merits on the phone just now, the petitioner has achieved what they could not have done under general plastics. Basically, what they have noticed is they found the board's prior position in IPR2018-00111 and they realize the gap in the petition, the logic, so they're trying to make new arguments, and they already did that by arguing to your Honors the alleged differences between the Garney testimony and what their petition is.

Those differences -- the alleged difference of what they are actually arguing does not appear in the petition, and so basically they've already achieved that, what they could not do with general plastics, which is by or through a petition, and to make new arguments and make it better.

We find that's totally prejudicial for the patent owner. And I don't know what the remedy is right now because the cat is out of the bag, and I don't know how that is going to influence your Honor's positions from this point onward because you've heard it. And I don't know whether you would have thought -- now you're going to look for that difference even though it has nothing to do with their petition. Never raised it.

IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18

Third of all, if your Honor wants to hear why it is not hearsay, I'm happy to talk about it. But it was also explained why it was not hearsay in our POPR, in the IPR2018-00508.

JUDGE PESLAK: Okay. I don't think that's necessary.

MR. HUH: Your Honor, this is Gregory Huh. If I may respond on a few points.

JUDGE PESLAK: Just to clarify the record. Don't get into the merits, please.

MR. HUH: Yes, your Honor.

So with respect to the hearsay, that was our first point that we raised in our initial discussion was the hearsay issue, we did not abandon that as Counsel has argued.

Second, with respect to us not being aware, the fact is that we were not aware. IPR counsel was not aware. Even now we don't have possession of that testimony. We reached out to litigation counsel a few days ago and we asked for the testimony to be given to us. They said it was subject to protective order and they could not give it us to. This is a fact.

IPR TELECONFERENCE 6-21-18

We could not have raised any arguments pertaining to this testimony of Mr. Garney at the petition stage. We were not aware even, and now we cannot obtain the full transcript. And what we would ask is that if actually Patent Owner does have it, we would ask that -and if Patent Owner has authority to file it, that they would file the full transcript and can get the record, that the board has full knowledge of everything in regard to this prior event, not a partial snippet of the record. We then we would have an opportunity to actually provide context for the board.

We think it's reasonable that the board have context and understand what Patent Owner is arguing, how they are pulling out specific quotes that don't stand for propositions that they're making.

MS. ZHONG: Your Honor, this is Annita Zhong.
MR. HUH: Okay. Give us a couple minutes here.

(Pause in the proceedings.)

JUDGE PESLAK: Counsel, this is Judge Peslak back again. We're going to take these matters under advisement. So if you can get us the transcript as soon as possible, and we can review what both of you have
