Commented [JE1]: Let's pick EDTX or TXED, but let's be consistent

Need another column with the status of the case "stayed" or "active" I recall a case is actually "in default"

The '622 patent and the other members of its related patent family were named in the following IPR proceedings:

Patent 8,724,622

Commented [JE2]: If we put the patent number at the top of each table, we can eliminate the repetitive "patent" column which provides no new information. However, we need another column headed "Decision" Status is "Trial" or "Denied" or "Partial Institution" or "Joinder" each of these are on my spreadsheet. And you can still have a column for the date of that decision
