Paul,

To more productively advance this discussion, it would be helpful if you addressed our prior questions, including whether Petitioner disputes the sole proposition for which the expert declaration is cited. You also neglected to address our proposed compromise. Nevertheless, we understand from your last, including your comment that Uniloc's admittedly narrow reliance on the declaration is "irrelevant," that you seek a deposition for the impermissible purpose of asking questions directed to arguments outside the scope of the Patent Owner Response. You are reminded that 37 CFR 42.23 states a Petitioner's reply may only respond to arguments raised in a patent owner response. You apparent position in scope is in conflict with this rule. You have provided no authority in support of your position, though we invited you to do so.

In the absence of the clarification we specifically requested, we can only conclude that your purpose in seeking a deposition is to ask questions outside what the rules allow. We need the clarification we requested in order to properly address your questions. Under the present circumstances, we cannot agree to not oppose a new motion to strike.

Regards,
Brett

Brett,

You've submitted an expert declaration in this case and have relied on that declaration in your Patent Owner Response. Under the rules, we're entitled to cross examine your expert in a deposition. The narrowness of your expert's opinions on which you rely is irrelevant. We're entitled a deposition and, if you won't agree to strike his declaration and your reliance on that declaration, we want to proceed with his deposition.

To the extent you are unwilling to provide dates of availability for Dr. Easttom, the only option is his testimony must be stricken. As we stated previously, either (i) provide dates for Dr. Easttom's deposition or (ii) confirm that (1) you are refusing to make Dr. Easttom available for cross examination and that (2) you will not oppose a motion to strike his declaration and any references or citations thereto following the close of our discovery period.

Best,
Paul

Paul:

As we stated in prior communication, the Patent Owner Response ONLY cites Dr. Easttom's declaration (EX2001 ¶¶ 8-9) for the sole proposition that "a POSITA would understand that the entity intercepting a message would not be one of the intended recipients of that message." Our position is that it would be a waste of the parties resources to schedule a deposition that, under the rules, must be restricted to that sole proposition. Indeed, Petitioner has not indicated whether that straightforward proposition is even disputed. Please do so. Given your insistence in scheduling a deposition, we can only assume that you intend to expand the scope of the deposition beyond what the rules allow. Please clarify your position as to the scope and the authority in support of your position. Alternatively, and in the interest of compromise, we would not be opposed to you submitting a limited number of interrogatory questions directed to the single proposition for which the declaration is cited.

Regards,
Brett

Brett,

Putting this back to the top of your inbox. Please let us know Uniloc's position.

To the extent we do not hear from you on this issue, your silence will be interpreted as confirmation that (1) you will not provide Dr. Easttom for cross examination and (2) you will not oppose a motion to strike his declaration and any references or citations thereto following the close of our discovery period.

Paul

Brett,

Given the Court's ruling (attached) that striking Easttom's declaration is premature prior to the expiration of our discovery period, we wanted to follow up with you all on next steps. To the extent that you are maintaining your prior position, please confirm that (1) you will not provide Dr. Easttom for cross examination and (2) you will not oppose a motion to strike his declaration and any references or citations thereto following the close of our discovery period. Otherwise, please provide dates of availability for Dr. Easttom so Petitioner can take his deposition in advance of our Reply.

Paul

Brett,

Here's what we intend to send the Board by COB this afternoon:

In IPR2018-00884, Petitioner Apple respectfully requests permission to file an Unopposed Motion to Strike under 37 CFR 42.5(a) and 42.20(a). Specifically, the Petitioner seeks to strike the Easttom Declaration (Exhibit 2001) and all references or citations to the declaration in any filing as an alternative to making the declarant available for cross-examination. Petitioner and Patent Owner have conferred, and Patent Owner indicates that they do not oppose the motion.

If needed, Petitioner and Patent Owner are available for a Board call on Monday or Tuesday next week (2/25 or 2/26) between 11:00am and 3pm EDT.

Counsel,

We've had a chance to confer with our client, and we agree that an unopposed motion to strike Dr. Easttom's declaration and any references or citations thereto is an acceptable alternative to cross examination. We'll reach out to the Board to request permission for the filing. To the extent they would like to convene a conference call to discuss, what's your availability next week?
