I. INTRODUCTION

On November 8, 2019, Patent Owner, Teva Pharmaceuticals International GmbH (“Teva”), emailed the Board to request a conference call to seek authorization to submit supplemental briefing addressing the effects of the Federal Circuit’s decision in Arthrex, Inc. v. Smith & Nephew, Inc., 941 F.3d 1320 (Fed. Cir. 2019) (“Arthrex”) on the proceedings, and further requesting a stay of the proceedings to provide time for the requested supplemental briefing. See Ex. 2274<sup>2</sup>, 2–3. By return email, we denied Patent Owner’s request for supplemental briefing and a stay, stating “no stay or briefing is required, and the hearings will proceed as scheduled. Any Appointments Clause concerns have been addressed by the Federal Circuit in Arthrex.” Id. at 1. Subsequently, on November 21, 2019, Patent Owner filed a Request for Rehearing of our decision. See Paper 69 (“Req. Reh’g”).<sup>3</sup>

II. STANDARD OF REVIEW

A party requesting rehearing bears the burden of showing that the decision should be modified. 37 C.F.R. § 42.71(d). A request for rehearing “must specifically identify all matters the party believes the Board misapprehended or overlooked, and the place where each matter was previously addressed.” Id. With this in mind, we address the arguments presented by Patent Owner.

III. ANALYSIS

In its Request for Rehearing, Patent Owner argues that “[i]n denying Teva authorization to file supplemental briefing addressing Arthrex and a motion to stay (Ex. 2274 at 1), the panel misapprehended or overlooked the limitations of [the] Arthrex remedy and the constitutional issues that remain to be addressed.” Req. Reh’g 5. We disagree that we overlooked Patent Owner’s argument in this regard. Instead, we declined to consider Patent Owner’s constitutional arguments, as the issue has been addressed by the Federal Circuit in Arthrex. See Ex. 2274, 1. Additional briefing from the parties was not necessary to come to the decision to decline consideration of these constitutional arguments.

Patent Owner further argues that “[t]he panel misapprehended or overlooked that a brief stay until the Arthrex mandate issues will conserve agency resources, and will avoid taking further steps in this proceeding while an Appointments Clause violation still exists.” Req. Reh’g 5, 14–15. Regarding Patent Owner’s request for a stay of the proceedings, we disagree that we overlooked Patent Owner’s arguments. Instead, we note that except in cases involving the unique nature of the sovereign immunity right of the States, see, e.g., Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co. v. STC.UNM, IPR2019-01410, Paper 8 at 2–3 (PTAB Oct. 11, 2019) (cited by Patent Owner at Req. Reh’g 14–15), the Board generally declines to stay proceedings pending an appeal to the Federal Circuit or the Supreme Court. See, e.g., Askeladden LLC v. Purple Leaf, LLC, IPR2016-01720, Paper 22 at 2 (PTAB Sept. 11, 2017) (denying authorization to file a motion to stay pending the outcome of an appeal to the Supreme Court).<sup>4</sup> The present proceedings simply do not fall within the narrow category of cases in which the Board generally entertains a stay pending Federal Circuit review.

Patent Owner also presents several pages of substantive arguments addressing the effects of the Federal Circuit’s decision in Arthrex. See Req. Reh’g 5–14. As indicated above, we decline to address these constitutional arguments. Further, we could not have misapprehended or overlooked issues not before us in rendering our decision not to authorize supplemental briefing or a stay. See 37 C.F.R. § 42.71(d) (indicating that a Request for Rehearing “must specifically identify . . . the place where each matter was previously addressed”).

<sup>4</sup> The Board also sometimes stays cases involving concurrent bankruptcy proceedings. See, e.g., Dr. Reddy’s Labs. Inc. v. Pozen Inc., IPR2018-01341, Paper 10 (PTAB Oct. 16, 2018) (stay appropriate to allow the bankruptcy court to determine whether the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362 governing bankruptcy proceedings applies to inter partes reviews).

IPR2018-01712 (Patent No. 9,884,908 B2)

For the foregoing reasons, we are not persuaded that we misapprehended or overlooked Patent Owner's arguments in declining to authorize Patent Owner to submit supplemental briefing addressing the effects of the Federal Circuit's Arthrex decision on the proceedings, or in denying Patent Owner's request for a stay. Consequently, Patent Owner's Request for Rehearing is denied in each of the captioned proceedings.

IV. ORDER

Accordingly, it is

ORDERED that Patent Owner's Requests for Rehearing are denied.
