And, actually, you do point it out here in Paragraph 2034, at the top of Page 739: of -- to confirm we discussed yesterday, neither 13 13 The Klein Thesis does not identify the volume of 14 the system that you viewed and photographed nor 14 saline remaining in the saline reservoir as one 15 the manual disclose a computer, right? 15 of those alerts. 16 16 They do not. Page 46 Page 48 Page 332 Page 330 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER Right? 2 2 3 A. I do. 3 Q. Okay. So -- go ahead. Are you --So what specific modifications are I'm done. 4 0. 4 A. 5 you suggesting be made to the CardioGen-82 system 5 Okay. So I'd like to break down 6 based on the four -- five other prior art the -- you say there -- there's more than one 6 combination. 7 references that are discussed in this section of 7 8 your report? 8 So is it your opinion that 9 Well, for example, even the 9 CardioGen-82 and the Klein Thesis, just those two together, would meet an 11.3 of the '826 patent? CardioGen-82, had it had a -- a computer with a 10 10 11 touchscreen, it always withdrew a given volume 11 12 via a syringe and then pumped that volume out. 12 As I've said, the Klein Thesis did not track the volume remaining in the thesis --13 It would be trivial for a person of skill in the 13 14 art to track the total amount of volume that had 14 or in the device, but it could've -- in the saline source, but it could've done so readily. 15 been extracted from the saline bag and know what 15 Okay. So, then, is it your opinion the remainder is based on the initial volume of 16 16 17 the bag; that's a simple computational factor 17 that CardioGen-82 and those two references together, would meet that could be -- that could have been done. 18 But that's not the opinion you gave, Element 11.3? 19 19 20 that CardioGen could be modified by just the 20 A. 21 knowledge of skill in the art. Page 49 Page 47 Page 331 Page 333 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 2 And to be clear, are you giving the 2 I believe you made a claim. You're trying to break it down as though there was just 3 opinion that CardioGen needs to be combined with 3 4 all five of those references to reach the claim 4 one of those that I need to combine or maybe one or two. It's a complete grouping of disclosures element that we're talking about, or is it a 5 5 here -- or descriptions that form my opinion that pick-and-choose situation? 6 6 says it would be obvious to one of skill in the 7 I would like to understand --7 art to make the modifications that have been 8 MR. That's probably an overstatement, 9 although Tate refers to his system being 10 11 applicable to all systems -- sorry -- to multiple radiopharmaceuticals, and he mentions Rubidium as 12 13 one of the things that it would apply to. 14 So while Tate doesn't state in his description that he's using Rubidium-82, he does 15 say that Rubidium -- that his techniques and his 16 17 means of radiation safety and protection are 18 applicable to Rubidium-82. 19 So maybe not -- it's still accurate 20 to state that he would deal with that same 21 radiopharmaceutical in the same manner. 22 Isn't the tubing configuration in 23 CardioGen-82 actually more shielded than in Tate? This is not about redoing the A. shielding. It's about rerouting the -- let me go back to the claim.

We're looking at Claim --

Right. Right.

This says nothing about shielding in the claim. It has to do with routing with regard to pinching or crushing of the corresponding tubing when a first door is closed over the opening. I don't see a word about shielding in there, so why are we discussing shielding with regard to this claim?

We're discussing shielding because you mentioned it in Paragraph 2097 as a reason that one of skill in the art would modify CardioGen in view of Tate to reach the limitation of Claim 13 about the pinching and crushing.

Well, that's true, they both minimize radiation shieldings -- radiation through the use of shielding. But this claim is about routing of tubing to prevent the tubing from being crushed through the shielding.

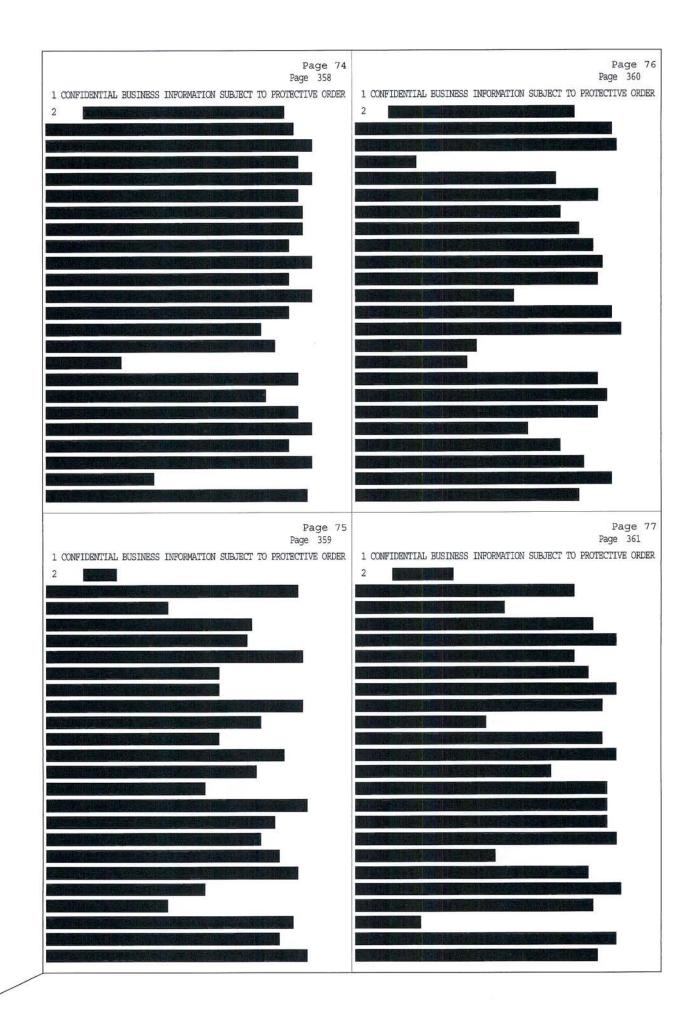

Page 346 Page 348 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 2 the tubing and fishing it out would be less and yet prevents kinking --3 ergonomic, less easy to do than would having a 3 0. We were talking about being in the 13 column wouldn't have pinching because there's not a lid, but you said it could kink at the bend; is 14 15 that --16 Kink at the bend or wherever you put 17 the lid on it if you don't have a path that makes sure the tubing stays in place while the lid is 18 19 closed, because you've got to put it down from Sure. So you -- you gave an opinion 0. 20 the top somehow. 20 in your report that we've discussed that a person 21 0. Where is the lid in the -- in the 21 of ordinary skill would modify the CardioGen-82 22 configuration that you're describing? 22 in view of Tate to meet Claim 13 because it's 23 Well, if you look at the -- there's a 23 your view that the trough layout is superior to 24 path from the syringe pump that goes down. You 24 the CardioGen layout. 25 have a shielded syringe pump on the --25 Have I captured that correctly? You have to run the tubing through 17 0. All right. And then let's look at 18 that. There's no path that holds it. There's 18 that opinion which begins at Paragraph 2255 on 19 the weight of the tubing. To me, that's not a 19 Page 821. Page 68 Page 66 Page 352 Page 350 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER "redundantly teach" language in this section? that it would be obvious, in view of Tate, to 2 No --3 have a door to meet that limitation, right? 3 A. A. Yes. 4 0. Okay. 4 -- I'm not confident that I don't use All right. Why would a person of 5 5 A. 6 ordinary skill be prompted to change the 6 that. CardioGen-82 design, which you believe has a lid 7 Okay. And you don't recall, one way 7 0. that meets the door limitation, to have the Tate 8 or another, without going through the elements? 8 No, I do not. A. 9 configuration? 9 Tate does meet the limitation. The 10 0. Okay. If you recall yesterday, when 10 Δ 11 Bracco 82, in my opinion, does with its lid. If 11 we spent some time in the Klein Thesis section talking about the doors at length, you 12 one argues that it does not, then Tate certainly 12 discloses that. So in view of Tate, then one 13 pointed to Klein Thesis itself as well as Tate, 13 would certainly meet that limitation of having a and then you also had 14 15 lid which -- through which one could vertically Do you recall that? 16 access the components under discussion. 17 So is this an opinion similar to what 17 A. Yes. 18 we discussed yesterday in the Klein Thesis, that 18 0. Okay. 19 you would at the hearing, for example, present 20 both opinions to the Judge as equally valid 21 obviousness opinions? Is there -- what -- what is the 22 A. I believe they're equally valid, yes. 22 reason that you use it in the Klein Thesis and 23 23 And to be clear, it's CardioGen-82 by itself or Tate by itself or CardioGen-82 in view 24 not in CardioGen for the same limitation? 24 No particular reason. I think we had 25 of Tate? Page 69 Page 67 Page 353 Page 351 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER adequate information presented here. 2 If one rejects the concept that a lid 2 So it -- it's your understanding --3 is a door, then Tate certainly supplies the 3 answer. And it would be obvious to combine Tate you were instructed by counsel in the beginning 4 4 with the CardioGen-82. And that's 2261. My of your report -- and we can take a look -- of 5 opinion is that the CardioGen-82 Infusion System, 6 certain legal premises that you needed to apply? 6 7 when modified as taught by the prior art, meets 7 A. 0. And, specifically, why don't we look 8 this subject matter. 8 9 And when you say "prior art" in 2261, 9 at Paragraph 37? And this paragraph comes under a 10 you're referring to Tate in the preceding 10 header above Paragraph 34 for Obviousness, right? 11 paragraphs? 11 12 12 A. A. Okay. And this -- this is another 13 Okay. So in Paragraph 37, you give 13 0. your understanding that in making a combination example where you have discussed a couple of 14 14 of references for obviousness, there needs to be references, and you gave an explanation, for 15 15 example, on Paragraph 2260 why, in your view, a a reason to prompt a person of ordinary skill to 16 16 17 person would combine them, but you do not include 17 combine the references, right? similar language to the Klein Thesis section of 18 18 Okay. And you applied that premise 19 other references that "redundantly teach" 19 Q. in your obviousness analysis? something? 20 20 21 Yes. 21 A. I didn't say the same words; that's A. 22 Okay. And in addition, at 22 correct. 0. 23 Paragraph 38, you explain your understanding that 23 And now that we have seen a few elements from the CardioGen-82 section, do you 24 to find the invention obvious in light of a prior 24 25 art combination, the prior art combination must 25 feel confident that you don't use that

Page 72 Page 70 Page 356 Page 354 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER further -have provided a reasonable expectation of 2 success; is that right? 3 A. Just let me take a look at something. 3 That's correct. 4 Q. Sure. And you applied that understanding in 5 At Paragraph -- on Page 612, I talk A 5 6 your obviousness analysis? 6 about the motivation to combine over a fairly extensive discussion as to why one would be doing 7 Yes. 7 this, so I'd be happy to discuss each of those Q. Okay. So returning to the 8 8 because I believe that addresses what you were Klein Thesis, it's your opinion that it would 9 9 referring to as to why one would modify Klein and 10 have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill 10 to modify the system to include, at least, a 11 why would -- one would be updating motivation to 11 combine the references. 12 shielded well onboard a cart, a first shielding 12 compartment at a lower elevation than the second 13 0. So just to clarify, on Page 612, this 13 shielding compartment, a computer configured to 14 is the section focused on the CardioGen? 14 Well, it's under the heading All 15 do a number of different functions that are not 15 A. Asserted Claims are Rendered Obvious by the 16 described in the Klein Thesis, such as filling 16 CardioGen-82 Infusion System. 17 the reservoir in the shielded well onboard the 17 And then we talk about, in 612, the 18 cart, making calibration breakthrough 18 19 motivation to combine the references that we 19 calculations while the reservoir is onboard the 20 utilized in demonstrating that modifying the 20 cart, right? 21 CardioGen system, as we disclosed, would have Someone would need to look to other 21 been obvious and would have been -- and there was 22 references for that? 22 motivation to combine those. 23 In this case -- you're saying "look 23 So you mentioned "market forces." to other references" -- the inventions that we're 24 24 25 If you turn to Paragraph 1691, which 25 talking about, Klein was not a product; it was a Page 71 Page 73 Page 355 Page 357 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER prototype. So a person of skill in the art who is just on Page 615, just a couple of pages 2 farther. 3 was building a product would look to Klein, would 3 look to standards, would look to what the 4 A. I see it. 4 5 Okay. Do you have any evidence of 5 competitive market was. And utilizing that need and market demand to combine teaches of 6 information, I think it's -- it's very obvious 6 Klein Thesis in CardioGen-82? 7 that -- whether it would have been obvious to try 7 Sorry. 8 the combination, such as they were, whether they 8 A. were likely to succeed, all of those meet those 9 (Whereupon, the witness reviews the 9 10 criterion. 10 material provided.) 11 And have you explained why a person 11 12 of skill in the art would actually be prompted to 13 make the, you know, array of changes that you 14 suggest in your report to the Klein Thesis? I don't recall discussing the market 15 16 forces or the product design criterion. I know 17 that a person of skill in the art who is doing 18 product development -- I believe I've talked 19 about a person of skill in the art with somewhat -- with experience with medical device 20 21 design, I believe they would be aware of that. I 22 don't know -- I do not recall making an 23 explanation of that. 24 You discussed yesterday what a dose 25 calibrator does, right -- oh. Do you have a

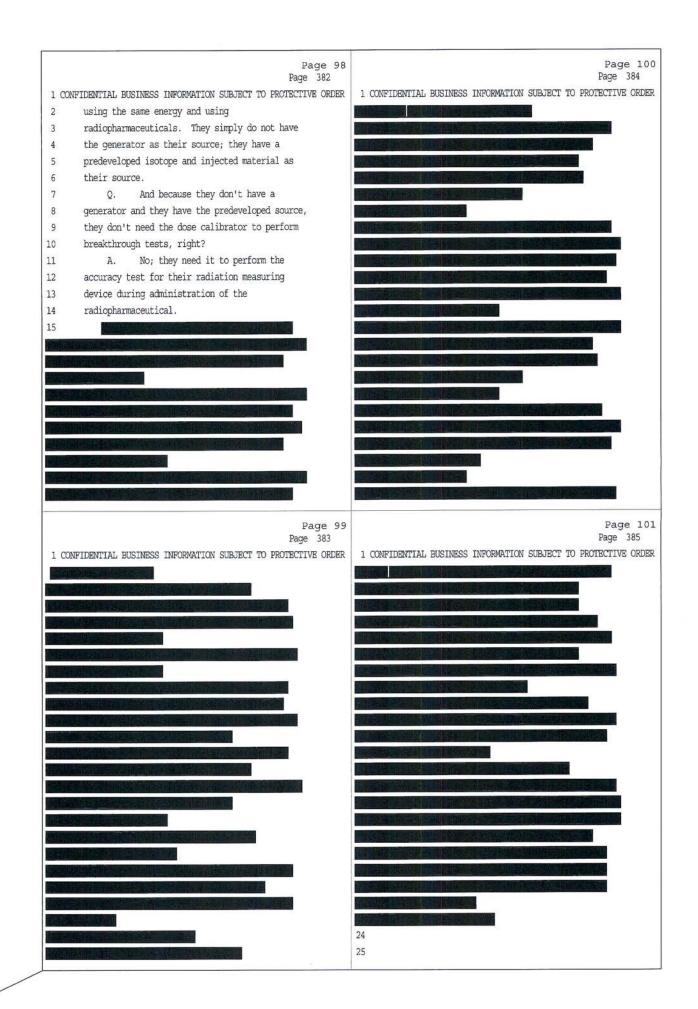

Page 80 Page 78 Page 362 Page 364 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER emission. Those are very close together, and I 3 don't know of any pulse-height discriminators and detectors that can actually differentiate between 4 5 those two, especially when you're trying to -currently using a ion chamber, which is not 6 7 energy discriminating; it's simply energy 8 detecting. 9 So it would be very difficult to do 10 it in that particular fashion. The classic way 11 of doing it is, indeed, to look at the -- two ways: the slope of the decay as it changes from 12 13 one isotope dominating to another isotope 14 dominating; and then, also, using shielding, 15 which -- frankly, distance is one shielding, because the -- the energy -- sorry -- the 16 radiation detected would fall off with the square 17 18 of the distance. 19 Okay. So separate from the e-mail -we're -- we don't need to -- to talk about the 20 21 0. Okay. So staying on the topic of a 21 e-mail any more, about the real-time 22 dose calibrator and what it's used for in 22 breakthrough. 23 the patents in the systems we have been talking 23 But in terms of the -- of your 24 about, would a person of skill understand that 24 opinion that one of skill in the art would modify 25 the dose calibrator cannot be too close to the 25 the Klein Thesis design to add an nonporous --Page 79 Page 81 Page 365 Page 363 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER onboard dose calibrator, these distance and 2 Strontium-Rubidium Generator in order to take shielding issues would arise, right? 3 proper calibration and breakthrough readings? 3 A person of skill in the art would They would. 4 4 need to know that -- that distance is one of the 5 Okay. And shielding is necessary not 5 only for the accuracy of the dose calibrator but 6 factors in shielding. It could be handled by 6 also for safety of the user of the system, right? 7 more shielding, or it could be handled by energy 7 That does not necessarily come into 8 differentiation and time slope calculations. 8 A. effect when it comes to the dose calibrator. 9 So your statement is not quite true. 9 With regard to the system and the All right. What do you mean by --10 10 11 and it sounded like you said more shielding is 11 sources of radiation -- primary sources of 12 one way to address this issue or, alternatively, 12 radiation onboard, that's where the safety of the 13 the energy differentiation and time slope 13 patient is involved. But the -- the radiation from the 14 calculations? 14 dose calibrator -- first of all, it falls off 15 A. That's one way. Page 130 Page 132 Page 416 Page 414 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 2 3 So it's your opinion that the 3 Q. Jubilant Version 3 system is simply a 4 better-looking system than the CardioGen-82? 5 6 I believe there are other sites that 7 point out that Bracco already had a extensive share of the market, the only share of the 8 9 market. There would be resistance to someone 10 else coming into the market. So they're producing a product that 11 has some better features to it in order to deal 12 13 with that. Q. Did the CardioGen-82 meet all of the 14 needs that the asserted patents can meet? 15 The CardioGen-82 did not have all the 16 17 features that the asserted patents claim. So there was a gap between the two? 18 0. There is a gap between the features 19 A. 20 claimed and the CardioGen-82. 21 Okay. And is that gap an unsolved need for those features? 22 23 A. It's a desire to have those in order 24 to maintain one's own position in the 25 marketplace. Page 133 Page 131 Page 417 Page 415 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 2 And desire is not one of the 2 3 objective indicia listed in your legal background 4 in Paragraph 42? 5 A. No. I'm certain, at this point in 6 time, that Bracco was aware that Jubilant was 7 producing -- was developing a product. So at 8 that point, they began to feel a need to put their own product into operation because Jubilant 9 was coming up with one. 10 11 So whose long-felt need? 12 The market isn't demanding it. The need is only the person who's doing the producing 13 here. They want to maintain their position. 14 15

2 And, again, I would allege that Klein 3 is fully integrated with all aspects here with 4 exception of placing the dose calibrator on the cart. And he had solved the major issues, which 5 6 is automating that procedure and providing for 7 the safety and efficacy of each injected dose --8 injected dose for the patient.

- So at the time of the Klein Thesis in 2005, was there a need for such a system?
- He did an integrated system. If you look at his block diagram of his system, even though it's not on the cart, his block diagram includes the dose calibrator. So it was a fully integrated system whether it was physically on the cart or not --
 - 0. So was --

- A. -- so he saw the need for the system when he did his thesis in 2005, and he solved the problem.
- 21 So it's your opinion that Dr. Klein 22 identified a problem and solution in 2005, but 23 when Bracco and Jubilant made their patent filings or developed their systems, there was no 25 such need for that; there was -- that was only a - breakthrough testing --

 - 0. And do you --
- A. -- his block diagram shows that all of those were integrated and computer-controlled.
- Do you agree that in 2005, there was 6 Q. 7 a need for this technical development?
 - A. There was, which he solved.
 - Why do you believe that there was a need in 2005?
 - A. Because breakthrough testing had to be done. It was cumbersome. He recognized that. Because there were other issues that needed to be automated because the devices had not been, and he solved those issues.
 - There was no commercial device that solved those issues until at least the late 2000-teens time, right?
 - I wouldn't comment on how long it takes to put a commercial device that solves all those together, but Dr. Klein had done so at that point in time, and it's prior art.
 - 0. In your opinion?
 - Yes. A.
 - Q. Let's look at Paragraph 445.

- 1 CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER 2 competitive opportunity?
 - He solved it competitive -- and solved the long-felt needs. They did not choose to put it in their product and, only later, chose
 - to put it in their patent application.
 - Why is it that Dr. Klein -- strike 0. that.

Why -- what is the basis of your opinion that Dr. Klein identified a need as compared to the companies that identified an opportunity? What is your distinction there?

Well, you said he -- he -- sorry. Dr. Klein saw that the -- the system needed to be fully integrated. He talks about the things that were done by the system, what it did. So, apparently, he identified a need and other needs in it as well and solved that in his system.

Whether he claimed he identified the need or not, he certainly solved what other people might perceive to be a need, because he did come up with a fully integrated system that provides for the safety and efficacy in the system as it delivers, including the automated

Are you at 445?

I am. A.

Okay. You note that The Klein design was used extensively in real-world clinical applications.

What are you referring to there?

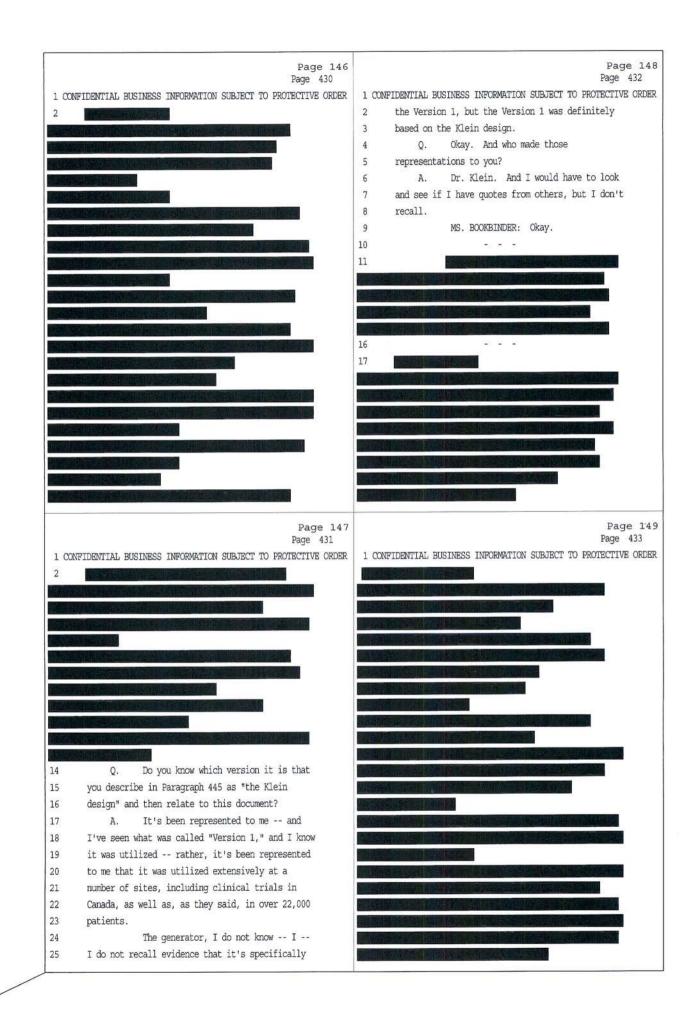

A design that is ultimately quite similar to Dr. Klein's system, the so-called Version 1 and others. And if we have our rest -our reference there, I believe we can show that the product has been used in Canada in clinical setting in over 22,000 patients without issues of sterility or contamination reported to date.

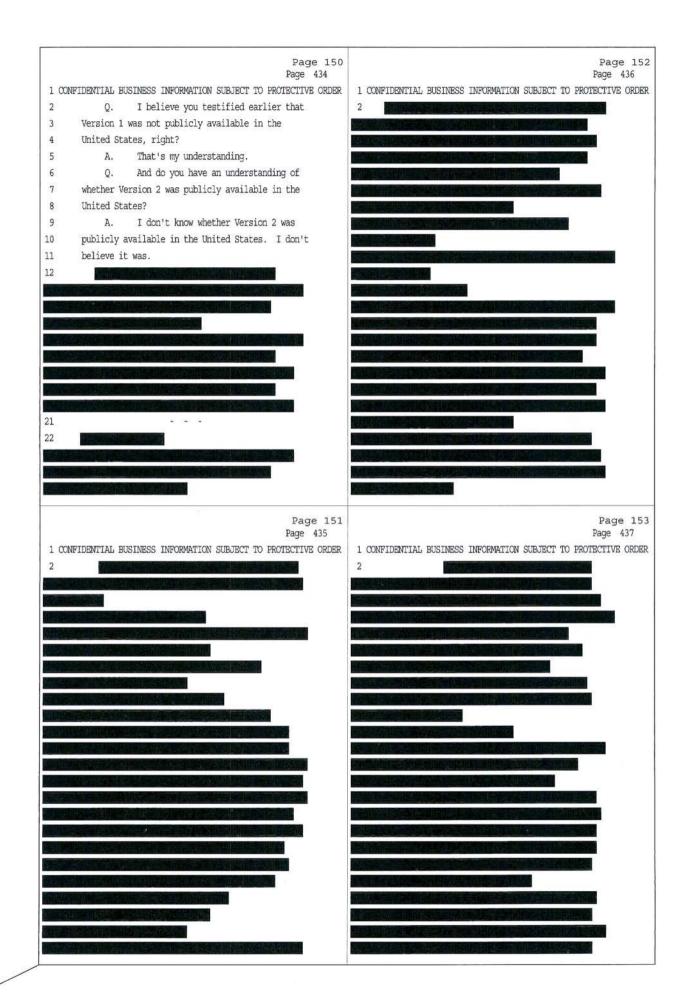

So it was definitely being used in a wide variety of places, though not as a U.S. medical device.

So let's look at the -- the references that you cite here.

So Paragraph 42 lists objective considerations in the fourth line after Unsolved need, Failure of others. A. I would have not concluded that a failure of others for business conditions other than I I would more consider that a failure of others to solve the same problem, as opposed to failure of others to have a commercial success. Q. If the product is not launched commercially, could the problem in the world actually be solved if people don't have access to the product? MR. WALKER: Objection THE WITNESS: That MR. WALKER: It's not mutually exclusive to each other; that's the problem. If the answer isn't yes, what's your answer? BY MS. BOOKBINDER: Q. So in applying or assessing the objective consideration of failure of others, did you consider that from a perspective of failure to develop? A. No. As beginning in Paragraph 20 [sic], what I have is that with respect to Lux Pax, which I believe it's actually Lemer Pax. Q. So you said you're in Paragraph 20?

What would be indicative of a failure 5 6 to you in assessing obviousness of a patent 7 claim? 8 A. I would say in order to fail, you 9 have to attempt, in this particular case, not 10 simply not do something but attempt and not 11 succeed. That's the type of failure I believe 12 that would be indicative of a failure by others. 13 And doesn't Exhibit 55, which states, 14 The rapid development of the Positron emission 15 tomography shortly with Rubidium-82 -- isn't that 16 indicative of an attempt to make that system? 17 It may be an intent, but it's not 18 necessarily an attempt. That's very different. 19 Sir, I may not have been clear. I 20 actually believe I said "attempt." Does this Exhibit 55 not show an 21 22 attempt --And I said it --23 A. 24 0. -- to develop --25 -- shows intent, but it does not show A.
