DECLARATION OF CHRISTOPHER JAMES BAILEY-KELLOGG, PH.D.

DECLARATION OF CHRISTOPHER JAMES BAILEY-KELLOGG, Ph.D.

I, Christopher James Bailey-Kellogg, state and declare as follows.

1. I am currently a Professor of Computer Science at Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire.

2. I changed my name to Christopher James Bailey-Kellogg in August, 1993. Before that, my name was Christopher James Kellogg.

3. I am the author of Kellogg, Christopher James, “Visual Memory” (“Kellogg,” Exhibit 1003), which was completed in 1993. I wrote Kellogg in connection with earning my joint Bachelor of Science and Master of Science in Computer Science degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. I have reviewed Ex. 1001 and it is a true and correct copy of Kellogg.

4. On April 21, 1993, I signed and submitted Kellogg to the Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (“MIT”). This was the final version of Kellogg and no changes were made to it thereafter. No other version of Kellogg was submitted to the Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science, and no other version was published.

5. I submitted a complete copy of my thesis paper (Kellogg, Ex. 1001) to the Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science with the expectation that the Department would forward my thesis paper to the MIT

Libraries for publication. I understand the date stamp of July 9, 1993, on the first page of Kellogg, to be evidence of the receipt of my thesis paper by the MIT Libraries.

6. I did not place any holds on Kellogg nor am I aware of any such holds that would have restricted public access to Kellogg.

7. I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true, that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true, and that such statements are made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under 18 U.S.C. 1001.
