I, Robert L. Vigil, Ph.D., hereby declare as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

A. Assignment

- 1. This declaration is being submitted on behalf of Adapt Pharma
 Operations Limited ("Adapt") and Opiant Pharmaceuticals, Inc. ("Opiant") (collectively, "Patent Owners") in three inter partes review ("IPR") proceedings filed by Nalox-1 Pharmaceuticals, LLC ("Nalox-1"), Case Nos. IPR2019-00685, IPR2019-00688, and IPR2019-00694. Because there are a number of common issues in these IPR proceedings, I am providing a single declaration across all three IPR proceedings.
- 2. I have been retained to provide expert analysis and testimony regarding the commercial success of the invention described and claimed in U.S. Patent Nos. 9,211,253 ("the '253 patent"); 9,468,747 ("the '747 patent"); and 9,629,965 ("the '965 patent") (collectively, "the Adapt patents" or "the challenged patents"). I understand that Nalox-1 has challenged claims 1–29 of the '253 patent, claims 1–45 of the '747 patent, and claims 1–30 of the '965 patent ("the challenged claims") as being unpatentable as obvious.
- 3. Specifically, I have been asked to evaluate whether Narcan® Nasal Spray is a success in the marketplace, and whether there is a nexus between that product's success, if any, and the invention described in the challenged patents. As part of this assignment, I have been asked to consider whether Narcan® Nasal Spray's marketplace success reflects the product's fulfillment of long-felt need, as well as third-party praise for the invention described in the challenged patents.

- 4. I understand that each of the three IPR proceedings at issue has its own set of exhibit numbers. I will therefore refer to the exhibits by name; a chart of the relevant exhibit numbers in each proceeding and the short names I use to refer to different documents is attached to the end of this declaration.
- 5. For the purpose of my analysis, I have relied on the opinions of Dr. Stuart Jones expressed in his declaration ("Jones Decl.") that Narcan® Nasal Spray and/or the use of the Narcan® Nasal Spray embodies the challenged claims of the Adapt patents. I have not conducted an independent analysis of whether Narcan® Nasal Spray embodies every element of those claims.

B. Summary of Conclusions

6. Based upon my review and analysis of the evidence, it is my opinion that the commercial embodiment of the challenged patents and claims, Narcan® Nasal Spray, has been a marketplace success in the United States. Moreover, the challenged patents and claims have enabled key features and benefits of Narcan® Nasal Spray that have contributed to its success in the marketplace. As a result, I conclude that the invention described in the challenged patents and claims has been a commercial success. I also conclude that these features and benefits of Narcan®
