STIPULATION AND ORDER TO EXTEND TIME

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED by the parties, subject to the approval of the Court, that the deadline for substantial completion of document production is extended from June 5, 2020 to June 26, 2020.

There is good cause for the requested extension. Under the ESI Order, a Receiving Party may propose search terms to run against the Producing Party’s custodial data. The parties have been meeting and conferring regarding ESI search terms extensively since January 2020. The parties recently completed their negotiations for Mr. Vorbach on May 28, 2020, a named inventor on all asserted patents, and additional time is requested to review and complete his ESI production relative to the “substantial completion of document production” deadline. The requested extension would not impact any other deadline in the case.
