I. INTRODUCTION

U.S. Patent No. 9,219,780 (“the 780 Patent”) claims a system and method for a wireless device to interact with a remote storage server for remote storage of files. McCown, a PCT application published before the priority date of the 780 Patent, describes such a system and method. In particular, McCown discloses a user site, which can be an enhanced cellular telephone, that can manipulate a remote site and a storage site in order to cause a file to be downloaded from the remote site and thereby stored in the storage site.

While the 780 Patent mentions a “cache” only once, its claims have several limitations directed to “cache storage.” While a Skilled Artisan would understand McCown’s Internet-based system to employ a cache storage, to remove any doubt and to simplify the issues, this petition is based on the obvious combination of McCown and Dutta, a prior art published patent application directed to the capture and subsequent remote storage of web content using a web cache.

Finally, several dependent claims are drawn to certain low-level functionality for manipulating files stored remotely, such as moving, copying or deleting. A prior art patent to Coates discloses exactly that functionality in great detail. As demonstrated below and in the exhibits filed herewith, the combination of these prior art references renders claims 9-15 of the 780 Patent unpatentable for obviousness.

II. INTER PARTES REVIEW COMPLIANCE

Petitioners also certify this petition for inter partes review is not being filed more than one year from the date of service of a complaint on Petitioners alleging infringement of a patent. Petitioners also certify that they have not filed a civil action challenging the validity of a claim of the 780 Patent.
