		Motion to Strike Pleading	Denied
District Court Procedural Issues		The court denied defendant's motion to strike plaintiff's patent infringement complaint due to the parties' confidentiality agreement. "[Plaintiff's] complaint only references [its] notice to [defendant] and that the parties had subsequent conversations regarding such alleged infringements. [Plaintiff's] complaint does not disclose the information discussed during such negotiations. Applying Rule 408 to the facts of this case would prevent a patentee from establishing notice to the infringer of willful, induced, and contributory infringement. . . . [Plaintiff's] Complaint does not violate the Agreement between the Parties. . . . The stated 'Purpose' is evaluating licenses or transactions. [Plaintiff] contends that [defendant] has not articulated why [plaintiff] providing [defendant] with notice of [its] infringing conduct falls under the Purpose of the Agreement. . . . [Defendant's] own Motion to Strike and [related state] Complaint references the same communications that [plaintiff] relies on in its Complaint."

Apr. 22, 2021	76	Redacted/Public version of 71 Sealed Order Denying Defendant's Motion to Transfer Venue to Northern District of California. Signed by Judge Alan D Albright. (lad) (Entered: 05/03/2021)
Motion to Transfer Venue for Convenience (28 USC § 1404(a))		Denied
Venue	↳ Transfer Of Venue For Convenience ↳ Private Interest Factors (Venue)	The court denied defendant's motion to transfer venue from the Western District of Texas to the Northern District of California because the availability of compulsory process, witness convenience, practical problems, court congestion, and local interest weighed against transfer. "[Plaintiff] has established [plaintiff's IT vendor], while unlikely to testify at trial, and [its firmware developer] as unwilling witnesses who are within this Court's subpoena power but are not subject to NDCA's subpoena power. [Defendant] has failed to sufficiently establish any unwilling witnesses subject to NDCA court's subpoena power. . . . [T]he convenience of [defendant's] new Austin facility, along with its existing Austin facilities, greatly minimizes the time that [defendant's] employees are removed from their regular work responsibilities. . . . [T]his District would be more convenient for the six third-party inventor witnesses. . . . [T]here are co-pending proceedings that involve a majority of the same patents asserted against [defendant]. . . . While [defendant] claims historically WDTX and NDCA have disposed of cases at comparable rates, recently this Court has proved more expeditious. . . . [G]iven that [defendant's] presence in both districts is neutral in terms of transfer, but [plaintiff's] presence in WDTX weighs against transfer, the Court finds that the local-interest factor slightly weight against transfer."
