Re: AliveCor, Inc. v. Apple Inc., Case No. 6:21-cv-03958
Certain Wearable Electronic Devices With ECG Capability and Components Thereof, Investigation No. 337-TA-1266

Counsel:

We write regarding the petition for inter partes review (IPR) filed against the patent in suit, U.S. Patent No. 10,638,941, in the captioned litigations. We write to inform you that Apple Inc. (“Apple”) hereby stipulates that if the Patent Trial and Appeal Board (PTAB) institutes this petition on the grounds presented, then the Defendant, Apple, will not seek resolution in the district court or the ITC of any ground of invalidity that utilizes PCT Patent Publication 2012/0140559 (“Shmueli”), U.S. Patent Publication 2014/0275840 (“Osorio”), a printed publication published by Lee et. al on pages 26-29 of Volume No. 15, Issue No. 1 of the International Journal of Bioelectromagnetism in 2013 (“Lee-2013”), or U.S. Patent No. 7,894,888 (“Chan”).

In so stipulating, Apple seeks to avoid multiple proceedings addressing the validity of the '941 patent based on any of the same prior art references. Rather, consistent with Congressional intent, Apple wishes the patentability of this patent over Shmueli, Osorio, Lee-2013, or Chan to be addressed at the PTAB. But, for the sake of clarity and to avoid any doubt, if the PTAB declines institution of Apple's IPR petition relating to the '941 patent, Apple reserves the right to pursue this prior art in the litigations.

Sincerely,
