THE COURT: Good afternoon.
        2
                     MR. WREN: Good afternoon, your Honor.
                     THE COURT:
                                 Suzanne, would you be so kind -- 3
                                     Good afternoon, Judge.
                     MR. DAIGNAULT:
14:02:57
        5
                     THE COURT:
                                 Would you call the case, please?
                     THE CLERK:
                                 Sure.

                     Motion hearing in Civil Action W-20-CV-108, 14:02:59
        7
14:03:02
           styled, ParkerVision, Incorporated vs. Intel Corporation.
        8
                     THE COURT: If I could hear from counsel of 14:03:07
        9 10 record, please, starting with the plaintiff, whoever will 14:03:09
14:03:12
       11
           be speaking during this hearing.
14:03:14
                     MR. DAIGNAULT: Good afternoon, your Honor.
14:03:15
       13
                     This is Ron Daignault from Goldberg Segalla for the Plaintiff ParkerVision. And with me today are also 14:03:18
       14
           Jeff Parker, the CEO of ParkerVision, along with Chandran
14:03:22
       15
           Iyer, Jason Charkow, Ray Mort and Stephanie Mandir.
14:03:28
       16
                     THE COURT: Welcome to all of you, especially 14:03:31
       17
                          I appreciate him taking the time to attend.
14:03:33
       18
           your client.
14:03:38
       19
                     MR. PARKER: Thank you. Good afternoon.
14:03:40
       20
                     MR. WREN: Your Honor, Jim Wren here for Intel.
14:03:43
       21
           I want to introduce from Wilmer Hale, Michael Summersgill, 22
           Jason Choy and Sarah Petty. I also want to introduce from 14:03:49
           Intel, Kim Schmitt, Brad Waugh and Lien Dang.
14:03:54
       23
                     And, your Honor, conspicuously missing in action
14:03:58
       24
           today is Steve Ravel, who encountered a hopefully brief
14:04:01
       25

health issue this week and for whom I am subbing in.
14:04:08
14:04:12
           Ravel is doing well, sends his regards to the Court and opposing counsel.
14:04:16
                     And Mr. Summersgill will be taking the lead for 14:04:17
14:04:21
        5
           Intel today, and then, I'll join in on some brief points.
                     THE COURT: We missed Mr. Ravel yesterday, as 14:04:24
           well. So I hope he is -- let him know, I hope he's 14:04:26
        7
           feeling better.
14:04:30
        8
14:04:32
        9
                     MR. WREN:
                                 I will.
                                         Thank you, Judge.
       10
                     THE COURT: Okay. Let me tell you part of the 14:04:33
14:04:35
       11 reason -- the primary reason I set this. We have done a 14:04:41
           lot of work already on this motion. I think we feel like 14:04:44
       13 we're in pretty good shape, generally speaking, on what you all submitted. The briefs as usual are terrific.
14:04:49
       14 what I don't know is -- other than every other citizen in 15
14:04:54
           the United States is what the current status is of the 14:05:01
       16
           courts in Oregon.
14:05:05
       17
                     And I think it is -- I would like to hear first, 14:05:08
       18
14:05:12
       19
           I guess, from the defendants since it's their motion to 14:05:15
           transfer. I'd like to hear first whether or not counsel 21 knows what the current situation is regarding the docket 14:05:20
       22 of the federal court where you're seeking this to be 14:05:24
           transferred to and the impact. I don't know -- I feel 14:05:29
       23 kind of ignorant other than seeing the news. But it seems 14:05:35
       24
14:05:39
       25 to me as a casual observer that with a hundred nights in a
```

1 row of protests and violence, that that has to have had 2 some impact on the judiciary and what's happening in 3 Portland. But I could be totally wrong. That might just 4 be surmise on my side.
5 So what I'd like to hear if counsel from either side knows, and I'll start with counsel for defendant who is the movant, if you know whether or not the -- what the status of the federal courts are and how the last 100 days or longer has impacted what they're doing with their civil docket.

MR. SUMMERSGILL: Your Honor, this is Michael Summersgill.

Thank you for holding the hearing. And the way Mr. Wren and I had divided the issues is that I was going to focus more on the private interest factors, and he was going to focus on the public interest factors. But I have spent a fair amount of time in Portland, so I thought I'd like a crack at this. And then, if Mr. Wren has additional thoughts, he could add them.

That the court up in Portland is one that we've been before a number of times. There are currently 14 patent cases pending up there. So it's a relatively light load. The judges up there are very experienced with patent cases, though, despite the relatively light load.

I'm not aware of the protests having any impact
