I, David Levin, declare:

1. I have been retained on behalf of The Data Company Technologies Inc. (the “Petitioner”) as an independent technical expert in this IPR proceeding. This document provides certain of my opinions concerning the patentability of all claims in U.S. Patent No. 10,257,319 (“the ’319 patent”), specifically claims 1-29 (the “Challenged Claims”).

2. For my work as an expert in this matter, I am being compensated for my services at my standard rate of $500 per hour, plus actual expenses. My compensation is not dependent in any way upon my conclusions, the results of my analysis, or the outcome of this inter partes review of the ’319 patent.

I. PERSONAL AND PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

3. I am an Assistant Professor in the Department of Computer Science at the University of Maryland, a position that I have held since 2017. I am also affiliated with the University of Maryland Institute for Advanced Computer Studies (UMIACS), the Maryland Cybersecurity Center (MC2), and I am an affiliate assistant professor in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering. I chair the Computer Science Undergraduate Honors program at the University of Maryland. My curriculum vitae (“CV”) is provided as Exhibit 1004.

4. Before taking a position as Assistant Professor, I was a research scientist at the University of Maryland and held research positions at Hewlett
