IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

IN RE TARYN CHRISTIAN

Petitioner,

On Petition for Writ of Mandamus
To the United States Court of Appeals
For the Ninth Circuit

PETITION FOR A WRIT OF MANDAMUS

TARYN CHRISTIAN
Petitioner Pro Se
Saguro Correctional Center
A4004046 LC-05
1252 E. Arica Road
Eloy, AZ. 85131

QUESTIONS PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

(1) Should a writ of mandamus issue directing the Court of Appeals to decide the merits of a motion to recall its appellate mandate on the grounds of after-discovered fraud on the court, and to avoid a miscarriage of justice, pursuant to this Court's precedents?

(2) Did the Court of Appeals act properly when it subverted the rules of appellate procedure, foreclosing Petitioner's access to the court—which effectively avoided redress and insulated review of the government's fraud directed upon the Ninth Circuit, or did it so clearly abuse its discretion as to justify the drastic and extraordinary remedy of issuance of the writ of mandamus?

(3) Should this Court exercise its inherent authority to address the exceptional circumstances of after-discovered fraud perpetrated upon the United States Supreme Court—where, in 2010, in opposition to a petition for a writ of certiorari, the government's prosecutors intentionally created the false impression to the Court, that Petitioner's case was “materially” distinguishable from Chambers v. Mississippi, 410 U.S. 284 (1973), when in truth, Petitioner's case may arguably exceed the corroboration in Chambers? In these exceptional circumstances, should the Court act to purge the record of fraud to protect the integrity of its own process and that of the federal courts below?
