TMEP Section 1207.01(a)(iii)6

TMEP Section 1207.01(b)(iii)8

ISSUE ON APPEAL

Is there a likelihood of confusion under Trademark Act Section 2(d) between Applicant's RUGGED & DAPPER application and (1) RUGGED Registration No. 3903332 owned by Coty Germany GmbH and (2) RUGGED FIX Registration No. 4103613 owned by Wella GmbH?

PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On February 13, 2015, Applicant filed Application Serial No. 86534651 seeking to register the RUGGED & DAPPER mark for the following goods: "Men's Skincare, Grooming and Beauty products, namely, facial moisturizers, cleansers, oils for the face and hair, hand cream." In an Office Action dated May 22, 2015, the Examining Attorney refused to register Applicant's mark, citing a likelihood of confusion with (1) RUGGED Registration No. 3903332 owned by Coty Germany GmbH ("Coty") for "Soaps, perfumery; essential oils; cosmetics; cosmetic hair lotions" and (2) RUGGED FIX Registration No. 4103613 owned by Wella GmbH ("Wella") for overlapping goods "Hair care preparations, namely, shampoos, hair conditioners and non-medicated hair scalp treatments, namely, restructurizers and scalp conditioners." (Initial Office Action at 2.) Applicant timely responded to this Office Action on June 29, 2015. The Examining Attorney issued a final Office Action, continuing her refusal to register Applicant's mark under Section 2(d), on July 23, 2015. Applicant timely filed a Request for Reconsideration and concurrent Notice of Appeal in response to this Office Action on January 25, 2016. The Examining Attorney denied Applicant's Request for Reconsideration on February 19, 2016.

This appeal followed.

REQUEST FOR REMAND

Concurrent with this brief, Applicant will also submit a Request for Remand for Inclusion of Additional Evidence. Applicant seeks to introduce evidence consisting of (1) a letter from Coty consenting to Applicant's registration of the RUGGED & DAPPER application; and

(2) third-party RUGGED and RUGGED-based marks for toiletries that further highlight the crowded field of RUGGED-based marks for toiletries, particularly men's toiletries.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

This appeal arises from the Examining Attorney's final refusal to register Applicant's RUGGED & DAPPER mark and is proper under 15 U.S.C. § 1070. The Board reviews the decision of the Examining Attorney to determine "whether or not, based on the record before the examiner, the examiner's action was correct." In re Bose Corp., 772 F.2d 866, 869 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

ARGUMENT

Applicant's RUGGED & DAPPER mark is not confusingly similar to Coty's RUGGED and Wella's RUGGED FIX registrations (the "Cited Marks"). The Examining Attorney fails to consider the highly probative fact that the Cited Marks are coexisting on the registry for overlapping goods, and erroneously assumes that Coty's consent regarding Wella's registration somehow shields the common RUGGED component of Coty's and Wella's marks from being diluted or weakened when many courts have held the opposite. The Examining Attorney also incorrectly dismisses evidence regarding the Cited Marks' coexistence with RUGGED WYPES, Registration No. 2611014 owned by Clean Plus Incorporated for "multiple purpose, pre-saturated cleaning towel" broadly, by focusing on extrinsic evidence of Clean Plus' use, rather than the goods recited in the registration. Further, the Examining Attorney disregards the probative value of the RUGGED, RUGGED FIX, and RUGGED WYPES registrations' coexistence for overlapping and/or highly related goods with the sweeping statement that "prior decisions and actions of other trademark examining attorneys in registering other marks have little evidentiary value and are not binding." (Request for Reconsideration Denial at 3.) Third-party registrations are relevant to show that a component of a mark, RUGGED in this case, is suggestive or dilute such that the consuming public will rely on other elements to distinguish the source of the goods. Moreover, the Examining Attorney violates the anti-dissection rule by focusing on only the “rugged” component of Applicant’s mark and not the mark as a whole—RUGGED & DAPPER.

When these factors, as further discussed below, are considered in light of the fact that the term “rugged” is suggestive, not highly distinctive, the relevant consumers are not likely to be confused.

A. Confusion is Unlikely Because the RUGGED Component is Dilute and Consumers will Look to Other Elements as Source Identifiers

It is well established that in a likelihood of confusion analysis, the strength of the Cited Marks is a key factor. The more distinctive a mark is on the distinctiveness spectrum, the stronger the scope of protection it is afforded, and vice versa. In finding a likelihood of confusion between Applicant’s RUGGED & DAPPER mark and the Cited Marks, the Examining Attorney fails to consider that “rugged,” amongst other things, means “rough and strong in character,” and is suggestive of an aspirational characteristic when used in connection with personal care products. (See, e.g., Request for Reconsideration Ex. D, print-outs of registration certificates and TSDR pages of examples of third-party RUGGED-based consumer goods products, attached as Ex. A). The fact that RUGGED WYPES registered based on acquired distinctiveness is additional evidence that RUGGED-based marks for personal care products should not be afforded a broad scope of protection. (Request for Reconsideration Ex. A, print-outs of RUGGED WYPES Registration No. 3675406 in Class 3 (Principal Register based on Section 2(f) acquired distinctiveness) and Registration No. 2611014 in Class 21 (Supplemental Register) registration certificates and TSDR pages, attached as Ex. B.)

The suggestive and dilute nature of “rugged” is highlighted by the numerous third party uses of RUGGED and RUGGED-based marks for various personal care products, particularly for men, in the marketplace. (See Request for Remand Ex. B, attached as Ex. C, for goods such as MR RUGGED Beard Balm Conditioner, RUGGED for Men Natural Lotion, RUGGED Rescue Natural Skin Balm, RUGGED OAK Lotion, RUGGED RESTORATION Company toiletries, RUGGED Hair & Beard Balm, RUGGED Shaving Cream Soap, RUGGED Outdoors Beard Oil, RUGGED MONKEY Beard Balm and Conditioner, RUGGED RILEY Men’s Shave Soap). Because “rugged” is suggestive for personal care products, and consumers are used to seeing RUGGED and RUGGED-based marks for such goods in the marketplace, consumers have learned to look for elements other than “rugged,” such as “& dapper” in this case, in order to distinguish amongst different sources.

Further, the Cited Marks’ scope of protection is narrowed by the marks’ coexistence with each other and the RUGGED WYPES registration for overlapping and/or highly related goods. If Coty’s RUGGED registration for soaps broadly (which encompass hair soap), essential oils broadly (which encompass hair and scalp oils), and cosmetic hair lotions (which encompass hair “restructurizer” and conditioners) can coexist with Wella’s RUGGED FIX registration for shampoo, hair conditioner, and hair restructurizer and scalp conditioner; and if both registrations can coexist with Clean Plus’ RUGGED WYPES registration for “multiple purpose cleaning towel pre-saturated with cleaning compounds”; then the Cited Marks should be able to similarly coexist with Applicant’s RUGGED & DAPPER mark. (See Request for Reconsideration Ex. E, print-outs showing third-party “hair soap” products and “hair oil” products, attached as Ex. D.)

B. The Examining Attorney Fails to Consider Material Facts Regarding the Cited Marks and Third-Party RUGGED WYPES Mark

The Examining Attorney fails to consider material facts by (1) incorrectly assuming that the consent agreement between Coty and Wella negates the probative value of their coexistence on the registry for a RUGGED mark and a RUGGED-based mark for overlapping goods; (2) incorrectly dismissing the probative value regarding the Cited Marks' coexistence with Clean Plus' RUGGED WYPES registration by focusing on extrinsic evidence of Clean Plus' use, rather than the goods recited in the registration; and (3) incorrectly disregarding the probative value of the RUGGED, RUGGED FIX, and RUGGED WYPES registrations coexisting for overlapping and/or highly related goods with the sweeping statement that "prior decisions and actions of other trademark examining attorneys in registering other marks have little evidentiary value and are not binding." (Request for Reconsideration Denial at 3.)

First, contrary to the Examining Attorney's assumption, there is no general rule that coexistence agreements shield marks from being weakened. Indeed, courts have held the opposite. The Southern District of New York, for example, has noted that a plaintiff's coexistence with another party in the marketplace, where the coexistence was consented to, dilutes the plaintiff's rights. See, e.g., Swatch v. Movado, 2003 WL 1872656 at *3 (S.D.N.Y.) (finding against summary judgment for plaintiff and noting that a third-party use with plaintiff's permission "surely dilutes the distinctiveness of plaintiff's mark"). Some courts have gone even further, treating consent agreements akin to an admission against interest or giving it an estoppel-like effect. See, e.g. California Fruit Growers Exchange v. Sunkist Baking Co., 166 F.2d 971, 76 U.S.P.Q. 85 (7th Cir. 1947) (no likelihood of confusion resulting from use of SUNKIST for bread where plaintiffs had consent agreement that there's no likelihood of confusion between SUNKIST for citrus fruit and SUN-KIST for canned fruit and vegetables); Campbell Soup Co. v.

Armour & Co., 81 F. Supp. 114, 120, 79 U.S.P.Q. 14 (D. Pa. 1948), aff'd on other grounds, 175 F.2d 795, 81 U.S.P.Q. 430 (3d Cir. 1949) (“plaintiffs have obtained no exclusive right of user to the red and white band for the reason that each of them have used it and diluted of whatever of value there was in it by reason of the registration to both of them”). Regardless of whether California Fruit or Campbell would be applicable here, the Examining Attorney is erroneous in assuming that the Cited Marks’ coexistence for overlapping goods does not impact their rights in the RUGGED component simply because Coty consented to Wella’s registration. At the very least, the Cited Marks’ coexistence should be given as much weight as if Coty had not consented to Wella’s registration.

Second, per TMEP Section 1207.01(a)(iii), for purposes of a Section 2(d) refusal, the scope of the RUGGED WYPES registration should be determined based on the goods recited in the registration, not by relying on extrinsic evidence. TMEP 1207.01(a)(iii) (“The nature and scope of a party’s goods or services must be determined on the basis of the goods or services recited in the application or registration... If the cited registration describes goods or services broadly, and there is no limitation as to their nature, type, channels of trade, or class of purchasers, it is presumed that the registration encompasses all goods or services of the type described ...”). Here, the RUGGED WYPES registration covers “multiple purpose cleaning towel pre-saturated with cleaning compounds.” The RUGGED WYPES registration does not contain a disclaimer or recitation that it is limited to industrial cleaning towels. Consequently, for a Section 2(d) analysis, the registration’s scope is based on the recited goods—not extrinsic evidence, and the RUGGED WYPES registration is probative regarding the relative weakness of RUGGED-based marks for personal care items. Cleaning towels pre-saturated with cleansing compounds are overlapping—or at the very least related to—the soaps and shampoos covered by the Cited Marks since cleansing towels and wipes are commonly used for beauty and personal care. (Request for Reconsideration Exs. B and C, print-out of Dictionary.com “soap” definition as “a substance used for washing and cleansing purposes” and print-outs of third-party facial and body soaps and pre-saturated facial and body towel cleansers, e.g., Clean & Clear Night Relaxing All-In-One Cleansing Wipes, Simple Cleansing Facial Wipes, Dude Wipes Personal Wipes, No Rinse Cleansing & Deodorizing Bath Wipes, attached as Ex. E.)

Third, third-party registrations are relevant to show that a component of a mark, RUGGED in this case, is suggestive or dilute such that the consuming public will rely on other elements to distinguish the source of the goods. 2 J. THOMAS MCCARTHY, MCCARTHY ON TRADEMARKS AND UNFAIR COMPETITION §11.90 (4th ed. 2010) (“Third party registrations are relevant to prove that some segment of the composite marks ... has a normally understood and well-recognized ... suggestive meaning, leading to the conclusion that that segment is relatively weak. Such registrations could also show that the PTO, by registering several marks with such a common segment, recognizes that portions of such composite marks other than the common segment are sufficient to distinguish the marks as a whole and to make confusion unlikely.”) For this reason, contrary to the Examining Attorney’s assertion, the existence of the RUGGED WYPES registration is not of “little evidentiary value” and the Examining Attorney has erroneously failed to give proper weight to the RUGGED WYPES registration’s coexistence on the registry with the Cited Marks for overlapping or highly related goods.

C. RUGGED & DAPPER Differs in Appearance, Meaning, and Overall Commercial Impression from the Cited Marks

The Examining Attorney also improperly dissected Applicant’s RUGGED & DAPPER mark in determining a likelihood of confusion with the Cited Marks. In re National Data Corp., 224 U.S.P.Q. 749, 751 (Fed. Cir. 1985) (“Likelihood of confusion cannot be predicated on a dissection of a mark [T]he ultimate conclusion rests on a consideration of the marks in their entirety.”). Rather than considering the commercial impression imparted by the RUGGED & DAPPER mark as a whole, the Examining Attorney simply rejects Applicant’s arguments out of hand and asserts:

Adding a term to a registered mark generally does not obviate the similarity between the compared marks, as in the present case, nor does it overcome a likelihood of confusion under Section 2(d). TMEP §1207.01(b)(iii). In the present case, the marks are identical in part. The identical portions of the marks convey the same commercial impression in relation to the goods. The addition of the term DAPPER does not create a double meaning or double entendre in connection with the goods at issue.

(Request for Reconsideration Denial at 3 (emphasis added).)

The Examining Attorney misinterprets Section 1207.01(b)(iii). Section 1207.01(b)(iii) actually states that “[l]ikelihood of confusion is not necessarily avoided between otherwise confusingly similar marks merely by adding or deleting [matter].” Section 1207.01(b)(iii) does not establish that additions or deletions to a mark are “generally” negligible in a Section 2(d) analysis. To the contrary, Section 1207.01(b)(iii) specifically states that “[a]dditions . . . may be sufficient to avoid a likelihood of confusion if: (1) the marks in their entirety convey significantly different commercial impressions; or (2) the matter common to the marks is not likely to be perceived by purchasers as distinguishing source because it is merely . . . diluted”—which is precisely the case at hand. See, e.g., Citigroup Inc. v. Capital City Bank Group, Inc., 637 F.3d 1344, 1356, 98 USPQ2d 1253, 1261 (Fed. Cir. 2011) (affirming TTAB’s holding that applicant’s CAPITAL CITY BANK marks for banking and financial services is not likely to cause confusion with opposer’s CITIBANK marks for banking and financial services, based in part on determination that “capital” is the dominant element of applicant’s marks, and gives a geographic connotation in addition to a look and sound distinct from opposer’s marks); Knight

Textile Corp. v. Jones Investment Co., 75 U.S.P.Q.2d 1313, 2005 WL 1691588 (T.T.A.B. 2005)

(No confusion likely between ESSENTIALS and NORTON MCNAUGHTON ESSENTIALS for identical and highly similar goods because “essentials” is weak and the addition of the NORTON MCNAUGHTON component suffices to avoid a likelihood of confusion.).

On the whole, Applicant’s mark conveys a distinct commercial impression from the Cited Marks. In terms of appearance and sound, the marks only share the term “rugged,” which should not be the only basis for finding a likelihood of confusion because, as discussed prior, “rugged” is relatively dilute and, in a crowded field, “customers will not likely be confused between any two of the crowd and may have learned to carefully pick out one from the other.” 2 J. THOMAS MCCARTHY, MCCARTHY ON TRADEMARKS AND UNFAIR COMPETITION §11.85 (4th ed. 2010).

Applicant’s mark is five syllables and thirteen letters. In contrast, the cited RUGGED mark is only two syllables and six letters, and the cited RUGGED FIX mark is only three syllables and nine letters. Further, the Cited Marks do not contain the terms “& dapper,” which are distinct in sound and appearance. As discussed prior, since “rugged” is relatively weak for the relevant goods, and “& dapper” is visually and audibly the larger component of Applicant’s mark, consumers may perceive “& dapper” to be the dominant element, distinguishing Applicant’s mark from the Cited Marks.

The marks at issue also convey different meanings. The term “rugged” means “rough and strong in character,” “strongly built or constituted,” “seamed with wrinkles and furrows,” or “having a rough, uneven surface.” The term “dapper,” on the other hand, means “neat and trim in appearance,” “small and active,” or “alert and lively in movement and manners.” By using the ampersand “&” to conjoin “rugged” with “dapper,” Applicant’s mark creates a somewhat incongruous and aspirational image of a neat, trim, and lively man who also balances a rough and strong demeanor. This is distinct from “rugged” alone, which may refer to the texture or endurance of Coty’s product, or “rugged fix,” which implies that Wella’s product is a strong fix or will fix one’s ruggedness. (Request for Reconsideration Ex. G, Merriam Webster and Dictionary.com “rugged,” “dapper,” and “fix” definitions attached as Ex. F.) These meanings are distinct from the meaning of Applicant’s mark.

Consumers will perceive differences between the RUGGED & DAPPER mark and the Cited Marks because “rugged” is suggestive and relatively weak for the goods at issue, and Applicant’s mark as a whole differs in appearance, sound, meaning, and overall commercial impression. See, e.g., Conde Nast Publications, Inc. v. Miss Quality, Inc., 184 U.S.P.Q. 422 (C.C.P.A. 1975) (COUNTRY VOGUES for women’s dresses and VOGUE for a fashion magazine and clothing patterns not confusingly similar as the common word “vogue” was outweighed by the dissimilarities between the marks viewed in their entireties); See also Knight Textile Corp. v. Jones Inv. Co., 75 U.S.P.Q.2d 1313 (T.T.A.B. 2005) (NORTON MCNAUGHTON ESSENTIALS not confusingly similar to ESSENTIALS).

CONCLUSION

In light of the above, RUGGED & DAPPER is not confusingly similar to RUGGED and RUGGED FIX based on Trademark Act Section 2(d). Applicant respectfully requests that the Board reverse the Examining Attorney’s refusal to register Applicant’s mark.

REQUIREMENTS TO MAINTAIN YOUR FEDERAL TRADEMARK REGISTRATION

WARNING: YOUR REGISTRATION WILL BE CANCELLED IF YOU DO NOT FILE THE DOCUMENTS BELOW DURING THE SPECIFIED TIME PERIODS.

Requirements in the First Ten Years*

What and When to File:

First Filing Deadline: You must file a Declaration of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) between the 5th and 6th years after the registration date. See 15 U.S.C. §§1058, 1141k. If the declaration is accepted, the registration will continue in force for the remainder of the ten-year period, calculated from the registration date, unless cancelled by an order of the Commissioner for Trademarks or a federal court.

Second Filing Deadline: You must file a Declaration of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) and an Application for Renewal between the 9th and 10th years after the registration date.* See 15 U.S.C. §1059.

Requirements in Successive Ten-Year Periods*

What and When to File:

You must file a Declaration of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) and an Application for Renewal between every 9th and 10th-year period, calculated from the registration date.*

Grace Period Filings*

The above documents will be accepted as timely if filed within six months after the deadlines listed above with the payment of an additional fee.

The United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) will NOT send you any future notice or reminder of these filing requirements.

ATTENTION MADRID PROTOCOL REGISTRANTS: The holder of an international registration with an extension of protection to the United States under the Madrid Protocol must timely file the Declarations of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) referenced above directly with the USPTO. The time periods for filing are based on the U.S. registration date (not the international registration date). The deadlines and grace periods for the Declarations of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) are identical to those for nationally issued registrations. See 15 U.S.C. §§1058, 1141k. However, owners of international registrations do not file renewal applications at the USPTO. Instead, the holder must file a renewal of the underlying international registration at the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization, under Article 7 of the Madrid Protocol, before the expiration of each ten-year term of protection, calculated from the date of the international registration. See 15 U.S.C. §1141j. For more information and renewal forms for the international registration, see <http://www.wipo.int/madrid/en/>.

NOTE: Fees and requirements for maintaining registrations are subject to change. Please check the USPTO website for further information. With the exception of renewal applications for registered extensions of protection, you can file the registration maintenance documents referenced above online at <http://www.uspto.gov>.

Rugged for Men

Van Yulay has blended the perfect amount of musky fragrances with notes of citrus and warm vanilla. A modern, classy, sexy, complex blend of the following fragrance notes: Bergamot, Lemon, Silver Fir, and Geranium; all sitting on intoxicating notes of Woods, Leather, and Musk. A man wearing this is sure to get attention! This fragrance resembles "Black" cologne.

Natural Hand and Body Lotion

Natural Lotion penetrates deep into the skin, leaving your skin soft and supple. Never again will you have dry, cracked hands. Enjoy the benefits of Emu Oil and Shea Butter in this luxurious lotion. Our top-quality product does not contain any Mineral Oil or harmful chemicals. Perfect for all over skin care. Van Yulay Natural Lotion contains large amounts of natural ingredients, so that you feel the difference after just one use. Most lotion on the market is made with mineral oil, which just sits on the skin. Can you read all of the ingredients in your lotion that you are using? Other lotions on the market are made with harsh chemicals, which make your skin like sand paper. Van Yulay only uses natural ingredients to soothe your skin. Emu Oil is transdermal, which means it soaks right into the skin. Emu Oil is loaded with essential fatty acids and combined with rich emollients, which are necessary nutrients for re-hydrating dry, damaged skin. This formula has been infused with quality botanical extracts, nourishing oils & vitamins. Exceptional for very dry or over-exposed areas. Van Yulay makes a non-greasy lotion that has a silkiness you will love. With nature's wisdom you will get the comfort you deserve.

Ingredients

Herbal Water, Aloe Vera, Emu Oil, and Stearic Acid, Emulsifying Wax, Shea Butter, Glycerin, Avocado-Grapeseed-Prilla-Joboba-Olive Oils, Liquid Silk, Rosemary, Tea Tree, Vitamin E & C, Ylang-Ylang, GSE, Fragrance, and Germaben II

Product Features

- Promotes Healthy Skin
- Mineral Oil-Free
- Hydrates Dry Skin
- Absorbs Quickly

Van Yulay makes the best lotion you've ever tried or your money back!

★★★★★ Oh, wow, patchouli!

Reviewer: CSU Dad from Lyons, CO United States

June 8, 2015

I've been using this soap for almost a year. Never thought I'd love patchouli, but it's great with lime. Soap works into a good lather that softens the whiskers, stays moist, and doesn't irritate skin that's just been scraped with a razor. That makes a winner for me.

RUGGED OUTDOORS BEARD OIL

★★★★★ 3 Reviews Ask a question

Sold Out

You like to keep it au naturel – just short of stripping your clothes and joining the reservation wolf pack, of course. While your appearance says rough, tough, mcgruff, you want a more subtle scent to leave behind. That's why the Rugged Outdoors is your beard oil of choice.

Blended with 100% natural oils and seductive earthy scents such as oakmoss, Rugged Outdoors is the best oil for our outdoorsy, bearded brethren.

What is Beard Oil?

- Beard oil moisturizes facial hair and the skin underneath your beard. Beard oil hydrates the skin and helps softens beard hair.

What are the benefits?

- Beardsy Beard Oil stops beard itch, stops beard-druff, moisturizes your skin, softens your facial hair, leaves behind an intoxicating subtle scent, and is made from 100% natural ingredients.

How to use:

- For best results, put it on after you wash your beard as your hair follicles and pores are open and can easily absorb the oil. To apply, splash a dime size amount of beard oil in your palm and massage into your skin and beard. Beard Oil can be used in conjunction with Beard Balms, used up to three times daily, and like our all natural beard balms, beard oil does not need to be rinsed out.

Ingredients:

- Argan Oil
- Hemp Seed Oil
- Grape Seed Oil
- Jojoba Oil
- Vetiver
- Vitamin E
- Oakmoss

CUSTOMER TESTIMONIALS

I found the PERFECT shampoo bar that works for my scalp and hair! I have an oily, itchy, angry scalp (seborrheic dermatitis-I seem to have a severe form of it - maybe because my hair is so thick?) which tends to flare up. After a flare up and feeling so frustrated that this happened yet, I went to the drug store and bought some dandruff shampoo. When I returned home, I remembered I had bought your neem and tea tree shampoo bar recently. I made a rinse of a couple teaspoons of Braggs Cider Vinegar and filled the bottle up with water. I shampooed my hair with the neem and tea tree shampoo bar, rinsed, poured the Braggs Cider vinegar with water rinse on my scalp and hair, and guess what?! My scalp felt so much better and the itch was gone! The redness and scalp sores are doing a fast disappearing act. My ultra thick hair was left in beautiful condition - soft, full of volume, no dryness! I will return the dandruff shampo to the drugstore and stick to your neem and tea tree instead - this stuff really works! I am so thrilled that the constant itch (felt like fire ants on my head), scalp sores, and redness is disappearing so fast! Thank you so much!

I highly recommend your wonderful tea and neem soap shampoo for problem scalp sufferers especially those who suffer like I do from seborrheic dermatitis! Maria, Massachusetts

soap in Science

soap  (sōp)

A substance used for washing or cleaning, consisting of a mixture of sodium or potassium salts of naturally occurring fatty acids. Like detergents, soaps work by surrounding particles of grease or dirt with their molecules, thereby allowing them to be carried away. Unlike detergents, soaps react with the minerals common in most water, forming an insoluble film that remains on fabrics. For this reason soap is not as efficient a cleaner as most detergents. The film is also what causes rings to form in bathtubs. Compare detergent.

soap in the Bible

(Jer. 2:22; Mal. 3:2; Heb. borith), properly a vegetable alkali, obtained from the ashes of certain plants, particularly the salsola kali (saltwort), which abounds on the shores of the Dead Sea and of the Mediterranean. It does not appear that the Hebrews were acquainted with what is now called "soap," which is a compound of alkaline carbonates with oleaginous matter. The word "purely" in Isa. 1:25 (R.V., "thoroughly;" marg., "as with lye") is lit. "as with bor_." This word means "clearness," and hence also that which makes clear, or pure, alkali. "The ancients made use of alkali mingled with oil, instead of soap (Job 9:30), and also in smelting metals, to make them melt and flow more readily and purely" (Gesenius).

Word Origin and History for dapper

adj.

mid-15c., "elegant," from Middle Dutch or Middle Low German dapper "bold, strong, sturdy," later "quick, nimble," from Proto-Germanic dapraz*, perhaps with ironical shift of meaning (cf. Word Origin and History for fix v.

late 14c., "set (one's eyes or mind) on something," probably from Old French fixer*, from fixe "fixed," from Latin fixus "fixed, fast, immovable, established, settled," past participle of figere "to fix, fasten," from PIE root dhigw-* "to stick, to fix."

Sense of "fasten, attach" is c.1400; that of "settle, assign" is pre-1500 and evolved into "adjust, arrange" (1660s), then "repair" (1737). Sense of "tamper with" (a fight, a jury, etc.) is 1790. As euphemism for "castrate a pet" it dates from 1930. Related: Fixed; fixedly (1590s); fixing.

n.

"position from which it is difficult to move," 1809, American English, from fix (v.). Meaning "dose of narcotic" is from 1934, shortened from fix-up (1867, originally in reference to liquor).

fix in Technology

1. Federal Information Exchange.
2. Financial Information eXchange. (2001-05-14)

1. The fixed point combinator. Called Y in combinatory logic. Fix is a higher-order function which returns a fixed point of its argument (which is a function).

$\text{fix} :: (a \rightarrow a) \rightarrow a$ $\text{fix } f = f (\text{fix } f)$

Which satisfies the equation

$\text{fix } f = x$ such that $f x = x$.

Somewhat surprisingly, fix can be defined as the non-recursive lambda abstraction :

$fix = \lambda h . (\lambda x . h (x x)) (\lambda x . h (x x))$

Since this involves self-application, it has an infinite type. A function defined by

$f x_1 \dots x_N = E$ can be expressed as

$f = \lambda f . (\lambda f . \lambda x_1 \dots \lambda x_N . E) = (\lambda f . \lambda x_1 \dots \lambda x_N . E) (fix (\lambda f . \lambda x_1 \dots \lambda x_N . E)) = let f = (fix (\lambda f . \lambda x_1 \dots \lambda x_N . E)) in \lambda x_1 \dots \lambda x_N . E$

If f does not occur free in E (i.e. it is not recursive) then this reduces to simply

$f = \lambda x_1 \dots \lambda x_N . E$

In the case where $N = 0$ and f is free in E , this defines an infinite data object, e.g.

$ones = fix (\lambda ones . 1 : ones) = (\lambda ones . 1 : ones) (fix (\lambda ones . 1 : ones)) = 1 : (fix (\lambda ones . 1 : ones)) = 1 : 1 : \dots$

Fix f is also sometimes written as μf where μ is the Greek letter or alternatively, if $f = \lambda x . E$, written as $\mu x . E$.

Compare quine.

IN THE UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE BEFORE THE TRADEMARK TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD

In re Application of: Rugged & Dapper LLC
Serial No.: 86/534,651
Filed: February 13, 2015
Mark: RUGGED & DAPPER
Law Office: 104
Examining Attorney: Keri H. Cantone

REQUEST FOR REMAND FOR INCLUSION OF ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE

To the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board:

Pursuant to 37 CFR §2.142(d) and TMBP § 1207.02, Applicant respectfully requests that the Board grant the introduction of additional evidence and restore jurisdiction of the above-referenced application to the Examining Attorney. Applicant seeks to introduce evidence consisting of a letter from Coty Germany GmbH, owner of the cited mark RUGGED Registration No. 3903332, consenting to the Applicant's registration of RUGGED & DAPPER Application Serial No. 86534651. Letter attached as Exhibit A. This request, if granted, may obviate the Examining Attorney's refusal to register the above-referenced application and render the Appeal in this matter moot, thereby conserving the resources of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. Further, this evidence was not previously available as the parties signed the consent on April 21, 2016. It is believed that these reasons constitute good cause for this Request.

Further, Applicant seeks to introduce evidence consisting of print-outs of third-party RUGGED and RUGGED-based marks in connection with various toiletries, including soaps, lotions, and various hair products, attached as Exhibit B. This evidence highlights the crowded field of RUGGED-based marks for toiletries regarding the second cited mark RUGGED FIX Registration No. 4103613 owned by Wella GmbH, and Applicant respectfully submits that this constitutes good cause.

Applicant therefore requests that the Board remand the above-referenced application to the Examining Attorney for consideration of the Amendment and that the additional evidence may be made of record, and to stay this Appeal pending a decision by the Examining Attorney.

Respectfully submitted,

Rugged for Men

Van Yulay has blended the perfect amount of musky fragrances with notes of citrus and warm vanilla. A modern, classy, sexy, complex blend of the following fragrance notes: Bergamot, Lemon, Silver Fir, and Geranium; all sitting on intoxicating notes of Woods, Leather, and Musk. A man wearing this is sure to get attention! This fragrance resembles "Black" cologne.

Natural Hand and Body Lotion

Natural Lotion penetrates deep into the skin, leaving your skin soft and supple. Never again will you have dry, cracked hands. Enjoy the benefits of Emu Oil and Shea Butter in this luxurious lotion. Our top-quality product does not contain any Mineral Oil or harmful chemicals. Perfect for all over skin care. Van Yulay Natural Lotion contains large amounts of natural ingredients, so that you feel the difference after just one use. Most lotion on the market is made with mineral oil, which just sits on the skin. Can you read all of the ingredients in your lotion that you are using? Other lotions on the market are made with harsh chemicals, which make your skin like sand paper. Van Yulay only uses natural ingredients to soothe your skin. Emu Oil is transdermal, which means it soaks right into the skin. Emu Oil is loaded with essential fatty acids and combined with rich emollients, which are necessary nutrients for re-hydrating dry, damaged skin. This formula has been infused with quality botanical extracts, nourishing oils & vitamins. Exceptional for very dry or over-exposed areas. Van Yulay makes a non-greasy lotion that has a silkiness you will love. With nature's wisdom you will get the comfort you deserve.

Ingredients

Herbal Water, Aloe Vera, Emu Oil, and Stearic Acid, Emulsifying Wax, Shea Butter, Glycerin, Avocado-Grapeseed-Prilla-Joboba-Olive Oils, Liquid Silk, Rosemary, Tea Tree, Vitamin E & C, Ylang-Ylang, GSE, Fragrance, and Germaben II

★★★★★ Oh, wow, patchouli!

Reviewer: CSU Dad from Lyons, CO United States

June 8, 2015

I've been using this soap for almost a year. Never thought I'd love patchouli, but it's great with lime. Soap works into a good lather that softens the whiskers, stays moist, and doesn't irritate skin that's just been scraped with a razor. That makes a winner for me.

RUGGED OUTDOORS BEARD OIL

★★★★★ 3 Reviews Ask a question

Sold Out

You like to keep it au naturel – just short of stripping your clothes and joining the reservation wolf pack, of course. While your appearance says rough, tough, mcgruff, you want a more subtle scent to leave behind. That's why the Rugged Outdoors is your beard oil of choice.

Blended with 100% natural oils and seductive earthy scents such as oakmoss, Rugged Outdoors is the best oil for our outdoorsy, bearded brethren.

What is Beard Oil?

- Beard oil moisturizes facial hair and the skin underneath your beard. Beard oil hydrates the skin and helps softens beard hair.

What are the benefits?

- Beardsy Beard Oil stops beard itch, stops beard-druft, moisturizes your skin, softens your facial hair, leaves behind an intoxicating subtle scent, and is made from 100% natural ingredients.

How to use:

- For best results, put it on after you wash your beard as your hair follicles and pores are open and can easily absorb the oil. To apply, splash a dime size amount of beard oil in your palm and massage into your skin and beard. Beard Oil can be used in conjunction with Beard Balms, used up to three times daily, and like our all natural beard balms, beard oil does not need to be rinsed out.

Ingredients:

- Argan Oil
- Hemp Seed Oil
- Grape Seed Oil
- Jojoba Oil
- Vetiver
- Vitamin E
- Oakmoss

HOW TO USE BEARD WASH

Wild Man Beard Wash is very concentrated - use just a few drops to lather up a damp beard. Larger beards may require slightly more product to get a good lather. Massage down to the base of the beard, gently scrubbing skin. Rinse well and dry thoroughly. This product can be used twice a week to every day depending on hair/skin type. A dry beard will require less washing, an oily beard will require more. Follow with Wild Man Beard Conditioner:

May also be used in combination with Wild Man Beard Cream:

Description

Rugged. A clean fresh scent that isn't delicate at all blended with activated charcoal for a bit of manly grit. Made for him, but great for her too.

Great as a hand & all over body soap.

Contains a saponified blend of Shea & Cocoa Butters, Olive, Refined Sweet Almond, High Oleic Sunflower, Coconut & Palm Kernel Oils along with Activated Charcoal & Fragrance Oils.

We make our soaps from scratch the same way grandma did (with the exception of digital scales & refined ingredients) & each ingredient in our bars has a purpose. Our soaps lather well (really because we're lather kinda people) & will clean your skin without leaving you with that dry, tight, alligator skin feeling. Because our soaps are made the old fashioned way, each bar retains the glycerin that is naturally produced in the soap making process.

98% natural, gluten free, vegan friendly
