Helps treat Hoffa's Syndrome (Fat Pad Impingement), Meniscus Tears, Knee Osteoarthritis, ACL tears, Patella Tendonitis, Sprained Ligaments, Knee Bursitis, Chondromalacia, MCL, PCL, and LCL injuries along with other Chronic Knee Pain - Safely, Naturally and Effectively! You can also position the Knee T-Shellz Wrap over the Quad Muscles, Calf Muscles, Lower Hamstring, and more!

We designed the Knee T-Shellz Wrap with versatility in mind. With other knee wrap designs on the market, there is only one way the device can be positioned on the knee. Not so with the T-Shellz design...

You can position the T-Shellz energy pad over multiple areas of the knee and secure it with the easy-to-use Velcro straps. No matter muscle, perhaps the lower hamstring or IT Band, etc. Whenever you experience tightness or issues in the muscles or tissues surrounding the knee - the same Knee T Shellz wrap can be used to treat those areas as well.

The T-Shellz Wrap is based on an Electromagnetic Energy - which is very beneficial during the healing process. Read on to find out all the details...

How The Knee T-Shellz Wrap Enhances Your Healing

One basic premise of healing muscle or soft tissue injuries is to focus on enhancing blood flow to those damaged tissues. It is through the blood the body transports antibodies, nutrients, and oxygen. Nourishing your injured tissues with these healing properties should ~~they operate on a different wavelength and hence, can penetrate deeper into the body.~~

When these energy waves are emitted, they penetrate through your skin and fatty tissues until they reach your ligaments, muscles, cartilage, and tendons. Once they reach the targeted areas, they are absorbed and quickly converted into thermal energy...right at the location of the injury.

This results in relaxation of the vessel walls within the targeted and surrounding tissues. The vessels gently expand when warmed, allowing for more nutrient rich blood flow along with extra oxygen and antibodies to reach the damaged tissue. Plus, the enhanced blood flow helps in flushing cell waste and fluid build-up from the injury site - further enhancing the ability of the body to begin to heal.

In comparison to a traditional heating pad (which most people are familiar with), those devices provide more of a surface heat. The heat that a standard heating pad and heated pack provides has to be forced through multiple layers of skin and fatty tissues (known as conduction). With each layer of skin the heat passes through, there will be a corresponding energy loss because that heat is absorbing into each layer of skin or fat it passes through. By the time the heat reaches the targeted area deeper in the body, there is less energy remaining and hence, a lessened ability to stimulate blood flow to the injured tissues you are attempting to heal.

How your Body uses Blood to Repair Itself

The T-Shellz Wrap Difference!

1. Well to begin, the T-Shellz wrap uses a very soft neoprene that feels very comforting on the body. It hugs the body in a very serene way. You will love how it feels!
2. The energy pad produces a consistent and very soothing electromagnetic energy that penetrates effectively to targeted muscle blood flow reaching your injured tissues - which should result in a better capacity for rebuilding those tissues.
3. The T-Shellz has an intensity controller that is already secured to the energy pad.
4. T-Shellz Wraps are tested during the production process to ensure you receive a product that functions well and will last a long time.

Knee T-Shellz Is Very Helpful ★★★★★

quency and immediately started using it. I have had knee pain for over 10 years and after using this device for a short amount of time, it absolutely helps alleviate some of the pain that I have been having. It is comfortable and relaxing. Esther from New Jersey

Amazed With the Knee T Shellz Wrap ★★★★★

I purchased this device after suffering for 3-4 months with knee osteo-arthritis and a quad tear - with an MRI that said I was ok. I could not walk, seriously... Had 3 drains by the doctor in knee and quad and multiple cortisone injections. I had a big trip coming up to Utah and could not get off the couch, could not walk. My wife told me to cancel. My R.N. wife and her friend found this device online and I was not hopeful as nothing was helping. Within 3 days of using the blood flow device, the swelling virtually disappeared in my quad. My pain level went from a 10 down to 1. The medial site on the knee which if touched was horrible - was now fine! The
