14 Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c), Applicant, KidzArt Texas, LLC (“Applicant”), through counsel
15 undersigned, hereby submits the following Response to Opposer Kidsart, Inc.’s (“Opposer”) Motion for 16 Summary Judgment. For the reasons explained below, Applicant respectfully requests that the 17 Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (“TTAB”) deny Opposer’s motion and grant Applicant judgment in 18 its favor because the term “kidsart” is generic and does not identify a particular source.

19 I. INTRODUCTION

20 Opposer’s motion fails to note several important points which are necessary to fully understand
21 the context of the current dispute. There are presently two different registrations/applications at issue
22 here. First, as Opposer’s motion notes, based on an application filed on March 17, 2004 (and published 23 for opposition on May 31, 2005), Applicant has sought to register the mark “KIDZART” on the 24 principal register for, among other things, “franchise services, namely offering technical assistance in 25 the establishment and/or operation of educational programs and after-school enrichment programs,” and 26 for “Educational services, namely conducting classes in the field of art and distributing materials in 27

1 connection therewith,” alleging a first use date of August 1997. See USPTO Principal Trademark
2 Application Serial No. 76/581,686. Kidsart, Inc. opposes this application.

3 Second, Applicant also has an existing registration for the mark “KIDZART”. This application
4 was filed on July 3, 2000, and it has remained in use continuously since that time without opposition.
5 See USPTO Supplemental Trademark Application (“App.”) Serial No. 76/082,290; Registration No,
6 2491627 (noting supplemental register date of February 20, 2001). Notably, Opposer did not apply to 7 register “kidsart” until May 12, 2003 – three years later.

8 Opposer challenges both Applicant’s existing registration (seeking cancellation) and its pending
9 application to register “KIDZART” on the Principal Register, alleging that since 1986 it has utilized 10 (though never registered) “kidsart” in connection with the offering of the same, or similar services, as 11 those offered by Applicant. See Opposer’s Motion for Summary Judgment (“Opp. MSJ”) at 4 (citing 12 Bayles Decl. ¶ 3).

13 Opposer’s requests should be rejected because the term “kidsart” is wholly generic and incapable
14 of protection. In other words, where a descriptive mark—such as “KIDZART”—is capable of acquiring 15 a secondary meaning, and where the proponent of that mark alleges that it has in fact acquired such a 16 meaning, there can be no confusion between that distinctive mark and a wholly generic term or phrase
17 which describes a genus, not a source of services.

18 Summary judgment can only be granted when the moving party has established both: 1.) that no 19 genuine dispute exists as to any material facts, and, 2.) that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a
20 matter of law. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c); Opryland USA, Inc. v. Great American Music Show, Inc., 970
21 F.2d, 847, 23 USPQ2d. 1471 (Fed. Cir. 1992); Olde Tyme Foods, Inc. v. Roundy’s, Inc., 961 P.2d 200,
22 22 USPQ2d 1542 (Fed. Cir. 1992). Opposer’s motion fails and Applicant’s Motion should be granted
23 because Opposer has not shown that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law and Applicant
24 demonstrates herein that “kidsart” is generic as a matter of law.

25 II. ARGUMENT

26 In its motion, Opposer expends a significant amount of argument seeking to establish the 27 similarity of, and thus the likelihood of confusion between, the KIDSART and KIDZART marks. This

1 effort is somewhat unusual insofar as Opposer’s own motion notes that Applicant has agreed that the
2 two marks are nearly identical. See Opp. Mot. at 3 (quoting ¶ 6 of Applicant’s Answer; “Applicant
3 admits the allegations contained in Paragraph 6 of the Notice of Opposition that the marks are nearly 4 identical.”

5 Because the similarity of the marks is not in dispute, it is not necessary to address that issue.
6 Instead, the outcome of Opposer’s motion depends upon the fact that Opposer’s mark is generic and
7 incapable of protection, and for that reason, it provides no valid basis for cancellation of Applicant’s
8 mark and no confusion can exist between a generic/general term which describes nothing more than a
9 common activity and a descriptive term which has acquired a secondary meaning such that it identifies a 10 specific provider of services.

11 a. “KidsArt” is Generic

12 It is well-established that some marks are entitled to significant protection, while others are 13 entitled to no protection at all. In this regard, four familiar categories of terms have been identified for 14 classifying marks. In ascending order of protection, they are: generic, descriptive, suggestive, and 15 arbitrary or fanciful. See Abercrombie & Fitch Co. v. Hunting World, Inc., 537 F.2d 4, at 9 (2d Cir.
16 1976). Determining the specific category for a given mark is a question of fact. See WSM, Inc. v.
17 Hilton, 724 F.2d 1320, 1325–1326 (C.A.Mo. 1984). However, “...summary judgment must be granted 18 if no reasonable [fact finder] could return a verdict for the nonmoving party.” Freedman Seating Co. v.
19 American Seating Co., 420 F.3d 1350, 1356 (Fed. Cir. 2005) (quoting Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 20 477 U.S. 242, 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505, 91 L.Ed.2d 202 (1986).

21 Of this group, a generic term is not eligible for trademark protection, cannot be registered, and a 22 trademark infringement action cannot be predicated on its use. See American Cyanamid v. Connaught
23 Laboratories, Inc., 800 F.2d 306, 308 (2d Cir. 1986). “A term or phrase is generic when it is commonly 24 used to depict a genus or type of product, rather than a particular product.” Murphy Door Bed Co. v.
25 Interior Sleep Systems, Inc., 874 F.2d 95 (2d Cir.1989) (emphasis added). A generic term “implies 26 reference to every member of a genus and the exclusion of individuating characteristics.” Eastern Air
27 Lines, Inc. v. New York Air Lines, Inc., 559 F.Supp. 1270, 1274 (S.D.N.Y.1983).

1 Evaluating whether a term is generic involves a two-part test: (1) What is the class of goods at 2 issue? and (2) Does the relevant public understand the designation primarily to refer to that class of 3 goods or services? See H. Marvin Ginn Corp. v. International Assoc. of Fire Chiefs, Inc., 782 F.2d 987,
4 990, 228 USPQ 528, 530 (Fed. Cir. 1986). The pivotal question is whether the principal significance of 5 the word to the consuming public is as an indication of the nature or class of the article rather than as an 6 indication that it emanated from a particular source (even if possibly an anonymous one). See
7 Feathercombs, Inc. v. Solo Products Corp., 306 F.2d 251, 256 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 371 U.S. 910, 83
8 S.Ct. 253, 9 L.Ed.2d 170 (1962); see also McGregor-Doniger Inc. v. Drizzle, Inc., 599 F.2d 1126, 1131
9 (2d Cir. 1979). Evidence of the public’s understanding of a term can be obtained from any competent 10 source, including dictionary definitions, research databases, newspapers and other publications. See In 11 Re Northland Aluminum Products, Inc., 777 F.2d 1556, 227 USPQ 961 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In Re Analog
12 Devices, Inc., 6 USPQ2d 1808 (TTAB 1988).

13 Most importantly, a multi-word term or phrase will be generic if the evidence shows that each of 14 the constituent words is generic and that the separate words retain their generic significance when joined 15 to form a compound that has “a meaning identical to the meaning common usage would ascribe to those 16 words as a compound.” In Re Gould Paper Corp., 834 F.2d 1017, 5 USPQ2d 1110, 1111–12 (Fed. Cir.
17 1987). In Gould Paper, the applicant sought registration for the mark “SCREENWIPES” for goods
18 described as “pre-moistened, anti-static cloth for cleaning computer and television screens.” Gould
19 Paper, 834 F.2d at 1017.

20 The PTO refused to register the mark on the basis that it was “merely descriptive” of the goods.
21 See id. In response, Gould argued that although the terms “screen” and “wipe” are words that are 22 commonly used, the unique combination formed by the union of these two words renders the 23 “SCREENWIPE” mark distinctive. The PTO disagreed and the Court of Appeals affirmed, finding:

24
25 Whether compounded as “screen wipe”-two words-or “screenwipe”-one word-either is 26 ordinary grammatical construction. Nothing is left for speculation or conjecture in the 27 alleged trademark. The compound immediately and unequivocally describes the purpose, function and nature of the goods as Gould itself tells us. ... Gould has simply joined the two most pertinent and individually generic terms applicable to its product, and then attempts to appropriate the ordinary compound thus created as its trademark.

1 ... In this instance, the terms remain as generic in the compound as individually, and 2 the compound thus created is itself generic.

3 Id. at 1018–19 (citing Cummins Engine Co. v. Continental Motors Corp., 359 F.2d 892, 53 CCPA 1167,
4 149 USPQ 559 (1966) (“TURBODIESEL” generic for engines having exhaust driven turbine
5 superchargers); In re Abcor Dev. Corp., 588 F.2d 811, 815, 200 USPQ 215, 219 (CCPA 1978) (Judge
6 Rich, concurring) (“GASBADGE” generic for a gas monitoring badge)) (emphasis added) (internal 7 citations omitted).

8 Here, as was the case with Gould Paper’s “SCREENWIPES”, “kidsart” is generic because words
9 comprising the mark, “KIDS” and “ART”, are generic by themselves, and when placed together as 10 “KIDSART” the term identifies a broad genus or type of general activity—children’s art—rather than a 11 particular source (Opposer or Applicant or someone else). This generic phrase does not give any 12 indication of the unique identity of the individual source of such goods or services. On the contrary, the 13 phrase “KidsArt” includes any/every possible provider of children’s art activities, including both 14 Opposer and Applicant, but also potentially millions of other similar businesses.

15 Indeed, as set forth in the declaration of Maria Crimi Speth submitted herewith, a recent Google 16 search for “kids art” returned in excess of ninety-one million hits (91,600,000) for a wide variety of 17 species of businesses offering goods and services within the larger “children’s art” genus. The search
18 returned hits for art galleries, art classes, art services, art supplies, and so forth. More importantly, the 19 list of sources associated with this generic phrase is virtually limitless, including the website
20 www.Art.com, the retail store Target and its site www.target.com, art supplier “Alex Art Supplies”, and 21 even online auction site www.ebay.com. Hundreds of similar examples are attached to Ms. Speth’s
22 declaration showing the widespread use of the words “kids art” to describe the common genus of art-
23 related children’s activities in websites, news reports, community calendars and elsewhere.

24 Some of the thousands examples of the generic usage of “kids art” include: (1) “Scribbles kids
25 art site;” (2) “Romanian kids art displays the artwork of students from Timisoara;” (3) “Kids’ art. Click
26 on an artist to see their work;” (4) “We have one of the largest kids’ art collections on the Web;” (5)
27 “Kids art lessons by Tumbnails;” (6) “Artsonia kids art museum;” (7) “the kids art page;” (8) “the kids’

1 art show;” (9) “kids art education supplies” and (10) “kids art classes.” Declaration of Maria Crimi
2 Speth and exhibits thereto.

3 Because it describes a class or type of activity and not a specific source, the generic phrase
4 “kidsart” provides a consumer with no information concerning the identity of Opposer or any other
5 specific service provider. This is the very definition of generic; “If the name brings to the mind of the 6 public the type of product instead of connoting a single source of that product, it is generic. American
7 Angus Ass'n v. Sysco Corp., 829 F.Supp. 807, 825 (W.D.N.C. 1992) (citing McCarthy, Trademarks and 8 Unfair Competition, § 12:2 at 522 (2d ed. 1984)) (emphasis added).

9 A similar situation was addressed in Gear, Inc. v. L.A. Gear California, Inc., 670 F.Supp. 508
10 (S.D.N.Y. 1987). In that case, the Plaintiff, Gear, Inc. registered “gear” as a mark for a variety of 11 products, including luggage, tote bags, gym bags, textile fabrics and for bath accessories including 12 shower curtains. See Gear, 670 F.Supp. at 511. The Defendant, L.A. Gear, registered the phrase “L.A.
13 Gear” as a mark in connection with footwear and clothing, among other things. Id. After discovering 14 Defendant’s use of the “L.A. Gear” mark, Plaintiff commenced an action for, inter alia, trademark 15 infringement, and Defendant counterclaimed for cancellation of Plaintiff’s “Gear” mark. Id.

16 After a preliminary discussion of the applicable legal standards, the court found, as a matter of 17 law, that the term “gear” was generic as applied to clothing, and for that reason, Defendants were 18 entitled to judgment as a matter of law on Plaintiff’s infringement claim because the term “gear”, as 19 applied to clothing, did nothing more than describe a general class of products known as “apparel” rather 20 than a specific individual source of apparel. See id. at 516–17. This was true even though Plaintiff had 21 enjoyed significant publicity and advertising for its products; “[N]o matter how much money and effort 22 the user of a generic term has poured into promoting the sale of its merchandise and what success it has 23 achieved in securing public identification, it cannot deprive competing manufacturers the product of the 24 right to call an article by its name.” Id. at 517 (quoting Abercrombie & Fitch, supra, 537 F.2d at 9).

25 In order to disprove a term as generic, the user must show the “primary significance of the term
26 in the minds of the consuming public is not the product but the producer.” American Angus Ass'n, 829
27 F.Supp. at 825 (quoting McCarthy, supra, at 523) (citing Kellogg Co. v. National Biscuit Co., 305 U.S.

1 111, 59 S.Ct. 109, 83 L.Ed. 73 (1938) (emphasis in original)). Opposer can make no such showing as is 2 so plainly demonstrated by the widespread generic use of “kids art.”

3 Opposer has not introduced any evidence that any consumer has ever associated Opposer’s
4 unique business with the mark “KIDSART”; it is just as likely that consumers looking for any children’s 5 art provider would reach Opposer without ever actually recognizing a distinction between Opposer and 6 any other similar provider. For instance, suppose a neighborhood dry cleaning business on Main Street
7 has a sign out front that simply reads: “DRYCLEANER”, but the business is actually operated by an 8 entity called “Acme Cleaners Corp., Inc.” A patron of this business may refer to it as “my dry cleaner”, 9 and a person passing by may see the sign and think, “that’s a dry cleaner business,” but they would 10 never connect this specific term with Acme Cleaners Corp., nor would the generic term “DRY
11 CLEANER” establish the unique identity of that business as opposed to any other cleaner in town. It 12 would therefore not serve as a valid basis to cancel the mark of that is capable of acquiring secondary
13 meaning, such as “DRI-KLEANER” or “VALLEY DRY CLEANER”.

14 Here, the facts reflect that “kids art” or “kidsart” are common words to describe nothing more 15 than a type of activity, not a source, just as a “dry cleaner” is a type of business, not a unique place or 16 entity. Regardless of its prior use of this unregistered mark, allowing Opposer to defeat more
17 descriptive and unique marks which identify unique providers of children’s art services would grant
18 Opposer a monopoly over the entire genre of children’s art. Such is not the purpose of either a valid
19 opposition or cancellation proceeding. Accordingly, Opposer’s motion should therefore be denied in its 20 entirety and this tribunal should grant Applicant’s Cross-Motion.

21 III. CONCLUSION

22 Opposer is not entitled to judgment as a matter of law. A generic mark, even one used for many 23 years, does not provide a sufficient basis to deny registration of a unique (albeit similar) mark which 24 does distinguish the proponent from its competitors. Having failed to establish any legal basis for its 25 position, Opposer’s motion should be denied and Applicant’s Cross-Motion should be granted.

26 RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED this 25th day of January 2006.

MARIA CRIMI SPETH being duly sworn upon her oath hereby deposes and says:

14 1. My name is Maria Crimi Speth. I am a resident of the State of Arizona, am
15 over the age of 18 years, and if called to testify in court I could and would truthfully testify
16 to the following information based upon my own personal knowledge.

17 2. I am an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Arizona, I am an active
18 member in good standing of the State Bar of Arizona, and I have been admitted to practice 19 law continuously in this state for the past 18 years. I am currently employed as a partner in 20 the law firm of Jaburg & Wilk P.C. in Phoenix, Arizona, and I have represented KIDZART
21 TEXAS, LLC ("Applicant") in connection with this matter since its inception. I have 22 possession of Applicant's files in this matter, and I am personally familiar with the contents
23 of the file.

24 3. On or about January 25, 2005, I conducted an Internet search for the words 25 "kids art" (together in quotes, meaning the search included only sites where the two words were 26 found directly adjacent to each other) through www.google.com. The search returned in excess 27 of 1,000,000 hits. A copy of the first 100 search results is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

1 4. After reviewing the search results, I concluded that the phrase “kids art” is 2 associated with countless providers of children’s art classes, art supplies, art galleries, and so
3 forth. The various goods and services associated with the generic concept of “kids art” includes 4 retailers such as Target stores, the auction site www.ebay.com, online art dealer www.art.com,
5 and even the National Gallery of Art and its associated website www.nga.gov/kids/kids.htm.

6 5. Next, I conducted a second Internet search for the phrase “KIDSART” (one word)
7 through www.google.com. The search returned in excess of 54,000 hits. A copy of the first
8 100 search results is attached hereto as Exhibit B. The results of this search for “KIDSART”
9 included numerous links to the same sites that were also within the group of sites listed in my 10 initial search for “kids art”, including www.Art.com, www.target.com, and many other similar 11 retailers and providers of children’s art services and supplies.

12 6. Finally, I conducted a third search for the phrase “KIDZART”. The search 13 returned in excess of 18,000 hits. A copy of the first 100 search results is attached hereto as 14 Exhibit C.

15 7. Unlike the two previous searches for “kids art” and “KIDSART” which returned
16 numerous links to generic art-related sites and sources, the search for “KIDZART” returned 17 results that were virtually 100% exclusively related to my client KidsArt Texas, LLC, or its 18 affiliates/franchisees.

19 8. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a copy of certain discovery that I directed to 20 Opposer KIDSART in November 2005. Attached to this discovery are Exhibits 1–40 which 21 reflect a wide variety of websites, news articles, and other materials demonstrating that the 22 words “kids art” and the phrase “kidsart” are commonly used to describe a general category of 23 children’s art activities rather than any one unique provider of such goods or services.

24 9. The materials contained in Exhibits 1–40 represent the results of a search I 25 personally prepared over a 1 week period in late 2005.

26 I swear the foregoing to be true and correct under penalty of perjury of the laws of 27 the State of Arizona.

Welcome to KidsArt -Aid. This is an educational project started off by students from Cooranbong Community School (Australia) and Whisconier Middle School (U.S).

Our aim is to showcase indigineous art by school students from around the world to create a virtual art gallery. We hope to not only share our indigineous cultures but to encourage corporations to sponsor a child's art piece. Proceeds of these sponsorships will be used to help students in developing countries resource their schools.

Gallery North School of Art

Art Classes for Children and Adults

Gallery North, for several decades has presented high quality art to Northwest art patrons. The members of this cooperative gallery are now offering art instruction in the gallery's new upstairs teaching studio. Call the gallery for information on registration or drop by and register. Gallery North is open 5 days a week, 10 am to 6 pm Monday through Saturday. 12 noon-6 pm, Sunday.

Teachers

Bonnie AuBuchon Bonnie has been teaching art to kids in the community for 15 years. In addition to teaching out of her studio, she has taught art in many media through Edmonds Community College, Edmonds School District, and Lynnwood Recreation Center

John Vandebrooke "After years of exploring many different media I discovered wax and Eureka! Never have I or the ones taking the class, had so much fun. Warning, it can be addictive."

Kathy Walker Kathy's work has been exhibited in numerous galleries including The Edmonds Arts Festival, Lynnwood Juried Art Exhibit, and Shoreline Art Festival. Her studies have ranged from figure drawing to botanical illustration to advanced experimental techniques in watercolor.

Encaustic Art Class (Melted Wax)

Just bring yourself and reestablish your connection with your creativity. Encaustic is a perfect medium to explore if you think you're unable to create. You'll use the hot tools and melting wax to bring back your memory of your creative source. I even call it therapeutic. Cost is $35.00 and all supplies are included for this 3-hour introduction to this ancient art form. It is what you're looking for, honest!

Encaustic Supplies Available For PurchaseKathy Walker

Beginning Watercolor Through a series of four weekly projects, we will explore contrasting watercolor styles and the basics of color theory, technique, design, composition and value. You will produce at least four paintings. In this class we will cover the guidelines for purchasing a modest watercolor set. For students who have none at the first class, there will be a $5.00 fee for the instructor's supplies. 4 sessions: $60.00 Ages 11 and up. Saturdays

Pictures of Kids' Art Classes.

The 2nd shot shows another class with a different still life. There were about 25-28 kids in each of the six classes. Teaching these classes really taught me a lot also. For one thing...art teachers work their butts off. They have to keep moving at all times and making sure that no loaded paint brush ends up on someone else's property! All of the kids in Debbie's classes were very, very good. It's a true testament to her teaching abilities. Just the LOOK and tone in her voice was all that was needed when things started to get out of control at times! The 3rd picture is a couple of proud artists from one of the morning classes. There are a few more pictures on my web site. It's in my Upcoming Events section.

I paint in oils and acrylics. One thing people notice is the colors. Beige is boring. By the way, I work at an inn & restaurant, time to time. What I really enjoy, is miniatures. Join me in my journey to explore new ways to keep art in my life.

Dear Nutmeg,

Well, I did like Blog until I tried to leave a comment. I'm having some difficulties. Mmm, I really liked the first message I wrote but the second time around leaves less to be desired. Any way, thank you for the terrific comments about the grant program and your sets look great and by no means are the eighty year old phids an excuse not to go to the Y oh young one!

Peace and Love,

Dear Nutmeg,

OK, I'm going to try this once again all by myself. After step class I think I got another person to take my drawing class at NPS. We got yelled at for talking to load, you know laughing and stuff from a women from behind the desk. She must still subscribe to 1955 GH's the poor thing. Wow, that article is scarier than hell! The problem with that is that it is (was) our mother-in-laws! Who still feel that we should(ve) treat thier sons that way. Really Jayne, not that far off. John has secretaries and they pamper him all day. Like I didn't write up another proposal today, submit it paint an elaborate scene on an alien pumpkin and my classes where quieter than the library! Really rubs me the wrong way still. Absolutly, people should be treated with kindness but together. I'm venting. Let's see if I can light this candle.

Yours,
Rhubarb

KIDS ART CLASSES:

Barbara Libby's Summer Art Camp

"A continuity of learning will take place throughout my lessons, which are tailored to the appropriate age group.

Through visual arts I will promote students self-esteem, critical thinking skills, self-discipline and cross-cultural understanding. I will encourage each student's own individual style, imagination and art expression. Students will develop an appreciation of aesthetics, compositions, and designs.

Moreover, students will be encouraged to invent, experiment , take risks, and work together or as individuals and most importantly to not to be afraid to make mistakes".

Students will have opportunities to express themselves in:

Drawing: exploring different techniques such as pencil, colored pencil, ink, charcoal, crayon

Painting: realistic, surrealistic and abstract with various materials such as watercolor, acrylic, chalk pastel and oil pastel, applications with brushes, sponges, fingers etc.

Collage: cutting, tearing, pasting, coordinating and organizing a variation of materials like paper, textiles, found objects etc.

Three-Dimensional Art: mobiles, masks, salt-dough reliefs, building designs and objects out of wood, paper, cardboard etc.

Crafts: jumping jacks, puppets, games and toys

Sheri Earnhart

Sheri received her BFA in Illustration from Memphis College of Art in 2004, graduating Magna Cum Laude. While at MCA she received numerous merit-based scholarships. Her work has been accepted into the Society of Illustrators in Los Angeles and was exhibited at Froden Gallery in L.A. She has also been exhibited at Memphis College of Art and has her work in homes throughout Tennessee.

Amy Hutcheson

Amy received her BA in Illustration from Memphis College of Art in 2004, graduating with honors. She began her career teaching art in a multi-cultural school in Michigan to kids in grades K-5. She has created and implemented a variety of art curricula for the public school system in Lansing, Michigan for kids through grade 8. Her paintings, linoleum prints and drawings are shown in private collections in Memphis, Florida, Michigan and South Carolina. Recent exhibits include shows at Eclectic Eye, Durden Gallery, Painted Planet and Tonic.

Katy Levit

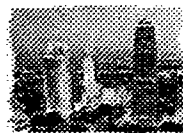

In 1993, Katy received her BA from Tufts University in English and Fine Art with a concentration in design. Katy began her career as a porcelain sculptor for Katherine Houston Porcelain in Andover, MA. She moved on to elementary art education and graphic design for kids and, before coming to The Art House, had her own line of hand built pottery that she sold at craft shows and on the internet. She has been working in pottery and mosaics for over 15 years and has been doing a wide variety of crafts her whole life. She has two children, Hannah, age 5 and Caleb, age 4.

I am a local artist who has had formal training from Emily Carr Institute in Vancouver and Pratt Institute in New York. I am accepting new students for in-home art classes. Age range for students are from age 5-15. I work around your child's schedule and come to your home with projects. Each session is one hour long and can last longer if desired. We will cover drawing, painting, watercolour, pastels, charcoal, paper making, clay and molding, several different kinds of craft projects, as well as teaching your child a bit about the famous masters. These lessons will allow your child to tap into his/her creative side and gain confidence in themselves. I will teach them technical aspects while creating a fun atmosphere for learning.

All classes are available morning or afternoon or evening and will be ongoing as long as your child wishes to participate.

All rates are including any and all materials used during lesson.

If you are interested please contact me and we can discuss what hours work best for you and your child.

FOR KIDS

Follow the fun and learn about Weir Farm. NPS Artwork

Kids Art Classes

J. Alden Weir was extremely well loved, mostly because he did everything he could to help other artists. His three little girls, Caro, Dorothy, and Cora, spent many happy summers here with their parents. They fished, rode the family donkeys, played tetherball, and went on outings while their father was busy creating paintings. Weir made over 200 paintings at his farm.

Fall Classes

We have again partnered with Pickerington's Parks and Recreation Department to bring a full schedule of exciting classes for kids and adults. See pages 2 through 4 for our Fall list. Watch for the Fall Parks and Rec catalog, delivered soon, and visit our web site, www.pickarts.org for the latest in class offerings and upcoming concerts.

Voice and Piano Lessons!

Our two new instructors still have room in their Fall classes for students interested in Group Vocal lessons, Private Vocal lessons and Piano lessons. See page 2.

Concert!

Pro-Musica has scheduled a Chamber Music performance on September 25th to be held at Prince of Peace Presbyterian Church at 4pm. If you have a Membership in POP Arts, you will receive a $1.00 ticket discount. Spence Funeral Home is co-sponsoring this event with POP Arts. $10/Adults, $7/Seniors and $5/Students. Two string ensembles from Pickerington North and Central High Schools will also perform.

New New New !

Watch the web site for more info on Drama, Theatre & Puppetry classes! Children & Adults! Kids will make their own puppets & learn skits, songs, poems & plays to use their puppets with. Also on tap are classes for adults & children in Drama & Theatre.

Summer Events

Fun Fur Flip-Flops! Crochet teacher and expert Mindy White taught us to crochet fun fur on our flip-flops. The class was so successful, two young sisters started a business selling their creations! See page 3 for more crochet classes.

BabySigns © is having a successful summer; the babies are signing and having fun with mom and dad in the class. If you're interested or know anyone who is, classes will be held again in the Fall, with registration through Instructor Brandi Whitney-Tran, babysignsbrandi@sbcglobal.net.

Adult Creative Arts

Artful Collage

For adults and high-school ages. Learn about collage, design, composition, found & purchased papers & other items. Beginners & experienced. A fun class to take chances in! There are no 'mistakes' here! Watch the Parks & Rec booklet or the web site for more details. Instructor Marsha Smith, POP Arts Director, PAAL President, water media and collage artist.

Stained Glass

Brenda Mason, stained glass artist, watercolorist, teacher, is again teaching her Stained Glass Beginners and Advanced classes. She is also offering 4 small ornament classes, to be held at the arts center. You won't need all the stained glass equipment for these 4 classes.

Adult Drawing and Painting

Brenda's classes will also continue through the Fall. The Drawing class will work from still life set ups and photos, and the Painting class will work with watercolors and acrylics. Provisions may be made with instructor to continue beyond the initial Fall sign-up with Parks & Rec.

More Music Information

The Columbus Children's Choir, Pickerington Branch, will resume practice in September. Contact us if you are interested. Also, contact Pickerington's Parks and Rec Dept at 614-833-2211 if you are interested in participating in singing with a community choir which is being organized. No experience necessary!

Needle Arts, Kids Art and Beading!

Needle Arts

Crochet!

Melinda White will teach Basic Crochet, and classes all season long such as crocheting a stadium blanket, "support a cause" ribbons to wear, an all-season shrug, fringed scarf, an ornament/gift tag, candle skirt and winter wrap.

Knitting!

Marsha Smith will again teach beginning knitting, ages 8 to adult. Also, a Christmas Scarf with bells will be on tap.

Sewing!

Sewing Designer Genelle Johnson will teach the kids from 7 to 12 how to use a sewing machine, sewing tools, read patterns, and make four (4!) projects. See the web site or call 833-9040 for more info & to register.

Art helps children understand their world, allowing them to express their fantasies and life experiences.

Beading

If you would like to learn to do simple beading, but just don't know where to start, one of these classes is for you. Beading expert Stacey Meiser will be teaching 8 beading classes, with one featuring a Brown Bag Lunch & Halloween bracelet on a Saturday and a Holiday Swarovski crystal necklace in time for presents. WOW! Call 833-9040.

Kudos to POP Arts

POP Arts received a letter of commendation for instructor Jennifer Matusiak, who teaches basket making and origami for us. The letter writer informed us that Jennifer had gone "above and beyond" her expectations in teaching basketry. Congratulations, Jennifer! She is a shining example of the kind of instructors we have here at POP Arts. We aim to please!

Kids Art Classes

Saturday Morning At POP Arts A fun learning experience, doing all kinds of art: making paper, clay, collage, painting, masks, drawing, fiber arts, print making. In April we will journey to a potter's studio to make our own piece of artwork. This class is intended to expose the child to all different kinds of art, and let them be creative.

Home School Art Enrichment Held on Tuesday mornings, this class will encourage the children to express themselves creatively using all kinds of art materials, pastels, charcoal, paint, clay, many others. An ongoing class.

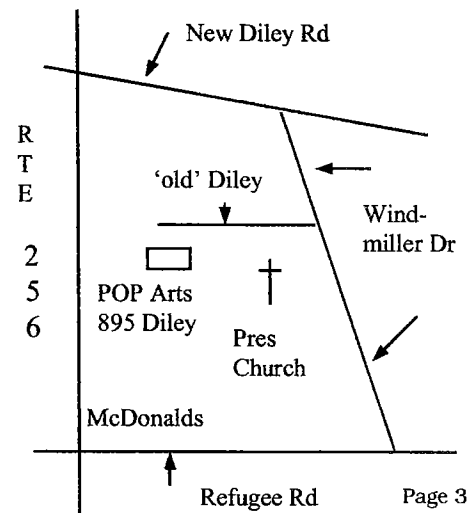

Wednesday After School Arts and Crafts

Membership in POP Arts

Support the Arts in Your Community

Become a Member Today!

POP Arts is a community-based and funded non-profit organization. The mission of POP Community Center for the Arts is to provide a creative environment where the arts may be experienced by all within a spiritual and supportive community. We seek to offer opportunities for learning, performing and enjoying the expression of God's gifts of talents through the many and varied offerings of the arts.

For any good non-profit Arts Program to flourish, support is needed from all the peoples of a modern society. Support can come from a variety of ways, volunteering, donating goods and services, and/or joining our program as a Member. Your Membership money goes towards funding the programs by purchasing supplies, sponsoring concerts, upkeep of the building and advertising.

Why Should I Become a POP Arts Member?

First and most important, a membership in this organization helps develop and support Art programs in Pickerington. Children and adults need to feel free to 'make art', to see and hear and touch art. It nourishes the soul and makes our city a better place to live. If you become a member, you will receive a 10% discount on classes and $1.00 off event tickets, plus you will receive advance notice of events. If you are a Business Patron, Art Donor or Concert/Event Sponsor, your benefits increase. Plus you will get the satisfaction of knowing you are helping to enrich people's lives, here in our own city. Studies have shown that children who are exposed to artistic experiences early in life do better in school, have better attention spans and are good problem-solvers. Won't you join us to help grow the arts in Pickerington?
