JURISDICTION AND VENUE

4. Uniloc brings this action for patent infringement under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. § 271 et seq. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1338(a) and 1367.

5. Venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(c) and 1400(b). Apple has regular and established places of business in this judicial district, including in Frisco and Plano, is deemed to reside in this judicial district, has committed acts of infringement in this judicial district, and/or has purposely transacted business involving the accused products in this judicial district.

6. Apple is subject to this Court's jurisdiction pursuant to due process and/or the Texas Long Arm Statute due at least to its substantial presence and business in this State and judicial district, including: (A) engaging in at least part of its past infringing activities, (B) regularly doing and soliciting business in Frisco and Plano, Texas and/or (C) engaging in persistent conduct and deriving substantial revenue from goods and services provided to customers in Texas.

COUNT I (INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 8,872,646)

7. Uniloc incorporates paragraphs 1-6 above by reference.

8. Uniloc Luxembourg is the owner, by assignment, of U.S. Patent No. 8,872,646 ("the '646 Patent"), entitled METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR WAKING UP A DEVICE DUE TO MOTION that issued on October 28, 2014. A true and correct copy of the '646 Patent is attached as Exhibit A hereto.

9. Uniloc USA is the exclusive licensee of the '646 Patent with ownership of all substantial rights therein, including the right to grant sublicenses, to exclude others, and to enforce, sue and recover past damages for the infringement thereof.

10. Apple manufactures, uses, sells, offers for sale and/or imports into the United States electronic devices such as iPhones (including versions SE, 6s, 6s+, 7, 7+ and 7 Red) and Watches that incorporate hardware (such as accelerometers, altimeters, gyroscopes and M9/M10 motion detecting coprocessors/S2 SiPs) and software (including iOS10.0.x and watchOS versions) that provide a Raise to Wake functionality to the devices (together, "Accused Infringing Devices").

11. Apple has directly infringed, and continues to directly infringe, one or more claims of the '646 Patent in the United States during the pendency of the '646 Patent, including at least claims 1-6, 8-15 and 17-23, literally and/or under the doctrine of equivalents, by or through making, using, offering for sale, selling and/or importing the Accused Infringing Devices.

12. In addition, should the accused devices be found to not literally infringe the asserted claims of the '646 Patent, the Accused Infringing Devices would nevertheless infringe the asserted claims of the '646 Patent. More specifically, the Accused Infringing Devices perform substantially the same function (waking up a device using motion detecting components such as accelerometers, altimeters, gyroscopes, M9/M10 coprocessors and associated software), in substantially the same way (using dominant axis gravity-related data), to yield substantially the same result (a device woken up by detected motion). Apple would thus be liable for direct infringement under the doctrine of equivalents.

13. Apple has indirectly infringed and continues to indirectly infringe at least claims 1-6, 8-15 and 17-23 of the '646 Patent in the United States by, among other things, actively inducing the using, offering for sale, selling and/or importing the Accused Infringing Devices. Apple's customers who use such devices in accordance with Apple's instructions directly infringe claims 1-6, 8-15 and 17-23 of the '646 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271. Apple directly and/or indirectly intentionally instructs its customers to infringe through training videos, demonstrations, brochures, installation and/or user guides such as those located at one or more of the following:

- www.apple.com
- <https://support.apple.com>
- <https://appleid.apple.com>
- <https://itunes.apple.com>
- www.youtube.com

Apple is thereby liable for infringement of the '646 Patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b).

14. Apple will have been on notice of the '646 Patent since, at the latest, the service of this complaint upon Apple. By the time of trial, Apple will have known and intended (since receiving such notice) that its continued actions would actively induce the infringement of claims 1-6, 8-15 and 17-23 of the '646 Patent.

15. Apple may have infringed the '646 Patent through other software and devices utilizing the same or reasonably similar functionality, including other current and/or future versions of the accused software and Accused Infringing Devices that allow a user of iPhones, iPads and/or Watches to wake up such devices as described above. Uniloc reserves the right to discover and pursue all such additional infringing software and devices.

16. Uniloc has been damaged by Apple's infringement of the '646 Patent.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Uniloc requests that the Court enter judgment against Apple as follows:

- (A) declaring that Apple has infringed the '646 Patent;
- (B) awarding Uniloc its damages suffered as a result of Apple's infringement of the '646 Patent;
- (C) awarding Uniloc its costs, attorneys' fees, expenses and interest; and
- (D) granting Uniloc such further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Uniloc hereby demands trial by jury on all issues so triable pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 38.
