At a subsequent court appearance, the Court may add to or modify these general conditions of release and supervision, but until such time, these conditions of release and supervision shall apply until the case is disposed and/or the Court no longer has jurisdiction. If the defendant is again released on a bond after any revocation or forfeiture, the conditions listed above in this order shall remain and the defendant is ORDERED to comply. Failure to abide by these bond conditions may result in the Defendant's bond being forfeited or revoked and the Defendant arrested and confined. In addition, the Court has the authority to oversee the enforcement of its Orders, require its proceedings be conducted in an orderly, expeditious manner, and to ensure justice is done. See Tex. Gov't Code §21.001. Disobeying this Order could also constitute contempt, which is punishable by a fine of not more than $500.00, confinement in jail for up to six months, or both.

Defendant's Acknowledgment

I understand the presiding judge of the court has attached these general conditions and compliance is mandatory. The judge is ordering me to obey the conditions listed above as a requirement of my continued release from custody. These conditions are to start immediately upon my release and proof of compliance may be requested prior to the next setting. I agree to these conditions. I understand that my failure to comply with these conditions may result in the forfeiture or revocation of my bond, my confinement, and possibly a separate action against me for contempt of court as detailed above.
