ANCORA TECHNOLOGIES, INC.,

Plaintiff,

v.

SAMSUNG ELECTRONICS CO., LTD., and SAMSUNG ELECTRONICS AMERICA,
INC.,

Defendants.

CIVIL ACTION NO. 1:20-CV-00034-ADA

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

PUBLIC VERSION

ANCORA'S OPPOSITION TO LG ELECTRONICS' DAUBERT MOTION TO EXCLUDE AND STRIKE CERTAIN OPINIONS OFFERED BY DR. DAVID MARTIN

ARGUMENT

I. DR. MARTIN’S OPINION THAT SAMSUNG’S E-FOTA IS SIMILAR TO LGE’S OTA UPDATE FUNCTIONALITY IS AMPLY SUPPORTED AND RELIABLE.

Citing no legal authority, LGE attacks as “unsupported” and “unreliable” Dr. Martin’s opinion that E-FOTA (a software product sold by LGE’s competitor, Samsung) is technically similar to the LGE technology accused of infringing the ’941 Patent. Mot. at 1-2.<sup>1</sup> LGE’s attacks go to the weight of Dr. Martin’s testimony, not its admissibility, and should be rejected.

LG’s central complaint—that Dr. Martin’s “opinion is not based on any source code” or confidential “technical documents” but rather “public websites,” Mot. at 1-2—is not grounds for exclusion under Fifth Circuit law. Rather, “questions relating to the bases and sources of an expert’s opinion affect the weight to be assigned [to] that opinion rather than its admissibility and should be left to the jury’s consideration.” Primrose Operating Co. v. Nat’l Am. Ins. Co., 382 F.3d 546, 562 (5th Cir. 2004); see Summit 6, LLC v. Samsung Elecs. Co., 802 F.3d 1283, 1299 (Fed. Cir. 2015) (“[D]isputes over the . . . the accuracy of the underlying facts are for the jury”).

LG also challenges Dr. Martin’s analysis as insufficiently “meaningful.” Mot. at 2. This, too, is wrong. [REDACTED]

<sup>1</sup> Ancora asked Dr. Martin to assess the technical similarity between Samsung’s E-FOTA product (which was sold on the open market) and LG’s OTA Update solution so that Ancora’s damages expert, Mr. Robert Mills, could determine if E-FOTA could serve as one benchmark for establishing the commercial value of the patented technology to LG. All exhibits are appended to the April 9, 2021 Declaration of Steven M. Seigel. All emphases added by Ancora unless otherwise stated.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Notably, LG never states that Dr. Martin’s analysis is incorrect. And regardless, LG’s critiques go to weight and not admissibility. See Bayer HealthCare LLC v. Baxalta Inc., 2019 WL 330149, at *5 (D. Del. Jan. 25, 2019) (holding that whether an expert has shown a “sufficient degree of technical comparability” with allegedly comparable technology is an issue to “be addressed through cross-examination, not exclusion”).

In sum, Dr. Martin’s E-FOTA opinions are well-supported, reliable, and admissible under Daubert and Fed. R. Evid. 702.

II. DR. MARTIN DOES NOT OPINE THAT LG DIRECTS AND CONTROLS THIRD PARTIES UNDER AKAMAI.

LG spends most of its Motion seeking to strike Dr. Martin’s purported opinion “that LGE directs or controls various third parties in the over-the-air (OTA) update process rendering LGE liable for direct infringement.” Mot at 3. To be clear, Dr. Martin has not and will not offer that opinion because—as Ancora always has argued—it is not proper for an expert to opine on ultimate conclusion of direction and control. Datatreasury, 2010 WL 3768105, at *5.<sup>2</sup>

What Dr. Martin has done is simply assume that the jury will agree at trial that— [REDACTED] actions are attributable to LGE. Thus, Dr. Martin's opinion is that LGE directly infringed [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The very references to "direct[ion] and control" that LGE cites make clear that Dr. Martin is not offering any opinion on the ultimate issue of direction and control; [REDACTED]
