This message originated from outside your organization

Dear Mr. Riley,

According to our record, we did not receive this case from the Department of State. Please make sure that the service of process is for a company or entity based in Taiwan (not China or other countries). If yes, then I direct your attention to the Department of State website at Service of Process \(state.gov\) for contact information.

Please see below information we provide to inquirer on letters rogatory process and AIT's roles, for your reference.

“ Once the State Department receive the request for letters rogatory, in this case, service of process, as well as the court documents and payment -- the letters rogatory will be transmitted by diplomatic pouch to the American Institute in Taiwan (AIT). AIT forwards the case to the Taiwan Council for U.S. Affairs (TCUSA) of Taiwan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs. TCUSA then forward the case to the Taiwan courts, where they will serve the paper to the company/entity/individual. Proof of service goes back through the same channels to the Department of State who sends it back to the U.S. courts or the lawyers. The whole process usually takes several months.

The documents have to be translated into Chinese (the request for judicial assistance, summons, and complaints). Please have the check addressed to “American Institute in Taiwan’ when you send it, along with the legal documentation, to the Department of State. The check for $2275 (for one company served, if you have a case but three company/individual with different address to be served, then it's 3 checks for $2275) covers the cost of both the Dept. and AIT's involvement in the process . “

Subject: Information on letters rogatory

Hi,

I'm not sure if this is something you can help me with, but, if not, I would appreciate it if you have any suggestions on who I should contact. I don't see a contact person or department at the State Department, but this email was listed as a contact. Opposing counsel in our case filed the attached declaration saying they had initiated the process for service via letters rogatory on November 2, 2020 and received confirmation that it had been received by the Department of State four days later. Is there any way to tell if the State Department did actually receive the letters rogatory and, if so, the current status of the letters in Taiwan?

Thank you.
Jim Riley

Case No. 1:20-cv-00765-LY

DECLARATION OF ADAM G. PRICE IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFF’S MOTION FOR LEAVE TO EFFECT ALTERNATIVE SERVICE ON DEFENDANT

I, Adam G. Price, hereby state and declare as follows:

I am a partner in the law firm of DiNovo Price LLP and am counsel of record for Plaintiff Bandspeed, LLC (“Plaintiff” or “Bandpseed”) in this action. I have personal knowledge of the matters set forth in this declaration and, if called upon as a witness, would testify competently thereto.

1. On September 10, 2020 I received a phone call from Claudia Frost during which she informed me of her representation of Defendant Realtek Semiconductor Corporation (“Defendant” or “Realtek”) in this matter.
2. During the same phone call, Mrs. Frost also indicated that Defendant will only accept service effected via Letters Rogatory.
3. Plaintiff filed a Motion for Issuance of Request for International Judicial Assistance on September 14, 2020 that was later granted by the Court on September 17, 2020. (Docs. 8 and 12.) Our firm, on behalf of Plaintiff, initiated the process for service via letters rogatory through the United States Department of State on November 2, 2020 and received
