³ On July 13, 2021, for the '108 patent only, the Court gave Apple the option of either joining the Markman briefing and hearing schedule of the AMD case with a Markman hearing already set for October 13, 2021, or to have a separate Markman briefing and hearing following the schedule for the '680, '804, and '505 patents based on a presumed CMC date of July 15, 2021. The Court further clarified that the separate briefing for the '108 patent would be dictated by the one-patent term and page limitations, and the briefing for the '680, '804, and '505 patents would be dictated by the three-patent term and page limitations. The Court also added that "[i]f any terms the Court construes for the '108 patent during the first AMD Markman are raised for the Apple Markman, the Court will merely adopt its construction from the AMD case for those particular terms." On July 16, 2021, Apple informed the Court that it chose to have a separate Markman briefing and hearing for the '108 patent following the briefing and hearing schedule for the '680, '804, and '505 patents based on a presumed CMC date of July 15, 2021. In its response to Apple, on July 16, the Court reiterated that "[Apple] may still assert constructions [for the '108 patent] and brief any of the AMD terms [for the '108 patent] to preserve your argument for appeal. Of note, the Court will not hear oral argument on any of the AMD terms." The Court further indicated that briefing with respect to the '754 patent, with respect to Qualcomm, "will be a separate Markman and separate set of briefs dictated by the 1 patent term and page limitations." The Court further indicated that the briefing with respect to the '680, '804, and '505 patents are to be consolidated amongst Apple, Broadcom, Qualcomm, and Realtek. The Court stated: "the Court notes that the 3 patent term/page limitation category delineated in the Court's OGP is for groupings of 3-5 patents, so the page/term limitations should be adequate to address all of the terms at issue despite the fact that the '505 patent is only asserted against Apple."
